HUMANITIES-BASED PROGRAMMES

REGULATIONS and SYLLABUSES

ACADEMIC YEAR 2006/2007

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the Faculty of Humanities and Education. The Faculty offers a BA Degree with a wide range of Majors which consists of Humanities courses combined with courses drawn from other disciplines and Faculties, including Social Sciences, Pure and Applied Sciences and Law. We also offer Majors in the Visual and Performing Arts in collaboration with the Edna Manley College for the Visual and Performing Arts (EMCVPA). The Faculty also offers the BA Theology Degree in association with Theological Colleges. Details of the Postgraduate Degrees (MA, M.Phil, MLS and Ph.D) are set out in the University Postgraduate Brochure.

This handbook provides information on all the Humanities-based courses and programmes of study offered by the Faculty. It is important that students read the information carefully in order to decide on their Major.

The handbook also sets out those regulations of the Faculty (e.g. those governing registration, the award of Degree, leave of absence, etc.) which is essential for students to know. It is the responsibility of each student to make sure that these regulations are observed.

Courses are subject to change and may not necessarily be available in any given year or semester. Students are encouraged to check with Department Advisors.

The Faculty retains the right to cancel any course in any semester if registration numbers are insufficient.

Students are encouraged to seek advice from Heads of Department or the staff of the Faculty Office and the Dean or Deputy Dean.

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION
PART I: GENERAL INFORMATION
BA DEGREE REGULATIONS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION

1. Before registration, and before beginning the courses leading to the BA degree in the Faculty, candidates must have satisfied:
 - (1) the University Matriculation requirements for entry to a degree course;
 - (2) the entry requirements of the Faculty of Humanities and Education;
 - (3) the entry requirements of the particular academic departments in which they propose to take courses.

2. These three sets of requirements are as follows:

(1) UNIVERSITY MATRICULATION

See University Matriculation Requirements,
UWI Calendar, Vol. II

(2) FACULTY REQUIREMENTS

Foreign Language Requirement:

All students are required to take and pass, as part of the BA degree programme, a preliminary one-semester foreign language course. (Note: Students will be permitted to take ONLY ONE Beginners course to fulfil this requirement).

The following are exempt:

- (a) A native speaker of either of these foreign languages.
- (b) Students who have at least a foreign language pass in the CAPE Functional, CSEC General [1,2 or 3] or O-Level Examinations or their equivalent.

(3) DEPARTMENTAL REQUIREMENTS

Where the University Matriculation Regulations refer to approved subjects (Regulations 4, 5, 6, 7), only one of the following subjects in the list may be counted towards entry in the Faculty of Humanities and Education

Health Science

Rural Biology

Human Anatomy, Hygiene and Physiology

Technical Drawing

The following are the minimal qualifications required of students registering to read Level I courses in the subjects stated:

COMPUTER SCIENCE	at least a B in an A-Level Science subject or CAPE equivalent
LITERATURES IN ENGLISH	normally Grade 1, 2 or 3 CSEC General or O-Level English Literature at A or B.
FRENCH	(i) for entry to the Beginners' course, see Regulation 4 below. (ii) for entry to other Level I courses, either a Grade 1, 2 or 3 CSEC General or an O-Level in French or a B in Beginners' French II.
GEOGRAPHY	A-Level pass in Geography or CAPE equivalent.
HISTORY/ARCHAEOLOGY	normally an O-Level pass or Grade 1, 2 or 3 CSEC General in History, or its equivalent.
LIBRARY STUDIES	no requirements

LINGUISTICS	no requirements
MEDIA & COMMUNICATION	Departmental test
MATHEMATICS	M080 or GCE A-Level Maths or Pure Maths or CAPE equivalent.
MUSIC	no requirements: prospective students may be given a musical ability test to determine their aptitude for the course.
PHILOSOPHY	no requirements
SPANISH	Normally Grade 1, 2, or 3 CSEC General or O-Level pass in Spanish.
THEOLOGY	no requirements
VISUAL ARTS	Foundation Studies prerequisite

CATEGORIES OF COURSES/WEIGHTING

3. (a) Each course is classified either as a Foundation course or as a Faculty course.
- (b) Each course is designated as appropriate to Level I, II or III (indicated by the first numeral in the course code). The exceptions are FD12A and FD13A which are counted as level II courses in the Faculty of Humanities and Education and should normally be done at level II.
- (c) Courses have a normal weighting of three (3) credits, except for some Faculty Courses, whose weighting varies between 1 and 8 credits.

BEGINNERS' COURSES IN LANGUAGES

4. (a) Beginners' courses may be offered in French,

Spanish, Japanese and Chinese languages and any other foreign language that may be added from time to time.

- (b) A candidate is not normally permitted to offer more than six Beginners' credits towards the credits required for the degree. (Exceptions may be made for Japanese and Chinese.)
- (c) Qualifications - Beginners' courses are open to the following persons:
 - (i) those who have no previous knowledge of the language concerned;
 - (ii) those who have a limited knowledge of the language concerned, but no academic qualifications;
 - (iii) those with academic qualifications, but whose knowledge of the language, the Department concerned, deems to be inadequate for admission to normal Level I courses.
- (d) A student who has successfully completed a Semester 2 Beginners' course is eligible for admission to Level I courses in the language concerned, and its associated literature and culture at the discretion of the Head of the Department concerned. However, students are reminded that they can take no more than 6 credits of Level I courses as part of the Level II programme and when Level I courses are so taken as part of the Level II programme, they will not count in determining Honours.
- (e) A Beginners' course cannot be offered as part of the Level II programme.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTRY TO LEVEL II AND LEVEL III COURSES

5. Students are reminded that Level II and III courses often have prerequisites. The details of these prerequisites are available in the section entitled “Course Outlines” in this handbook, and students are advised to ensure, by forward planning, that they acquire the prerequisites to the courses they intend to pursue in succeeding years.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE AWARD OF THE DEGREE

6. In order to qualify for a degree a student must satisfy the following requirements:

- I Have completed a MINIMUM of 90 credits of which
- (i) 12 credits shall be for Foundation Courses (FD14A/UC10A, UC10B, FD12A, FD13A)
 - (ii) at least 78 credits in Faculty Courses of which

- (a) a maximum of 30 credits shall be for Level I courses including Foundation courses of which, (except in the case of BA Theology)
- (b) a minimum of 21 credits shall be for Level II courses (not including Foundation courses).
- (c) a minimum of 24 credits and a maximum of 30 credits shall be for courses exclusively Level III.
- (d) at least nine of the ninety credits must be from within the Humanities and Education group of subjects outside the declared major/special.

Note: Students with a single major are not normally allowed to take more than a total of 90 credits.

- II
 - (i) on entry declare a Major, or a Special, or Double Major, (see 7a below), and
 - (ii) satisfy the requirements for the declared Major(s)/Special.

7. (a) A Major or Special must be declared from among the following subjects only:
Africa and African Diaspora Studies, Computer Science, English, French, Geography, History, History/Archaeology, Library Studies, Linguistics, Media & Communications, Mathematics, Philosophy, Spanish, Visual Arts. (See the full list of actual courses).
- (b) A Major is made up of a minimum of 36 credits in a single subject over the three levels. The actual number of credits varies by Department. For example, in Library and Information Studies and Media & Communications, the Major requires a minimum of 45 credits, while History requires 39. (See departmental requirements below).
- (c) A Special is made up of a minimum of 54 credits in the subject over the three levels. Permission to declare a Special in any given subject must be sought from the Head of the relevant Department. Component courses in a Major, Double Major or Special are determined by the Faculty Board on the recommendation of the relevant Department(s). Only Geography, History and Linguistics offer Specials at present.
- (d) A Double Major is made up of the required credits for each of the two Majors.
Students may register for a Double Major comprising a Major in the Faculty and a Major offered by another faculty with the permission of the respective Deans.
- (e) A student may, with the permission of the Dean, change Majors. Full-time students must do this no later than the start of their third semester of registration. Part-time students who have registered in accordance with regulation 9 (b) below, must do it no later than the start of the fifth semester of registration, or the completion of the bulk of Level I credits, whichever is sooner.

(f) DETERMINATION OF MINORS:

Having declared a Minor, students will, at the end of a particular discipline of the degree programme, be certified as attaining a Minor where they have obtained at least 15 credits, from Level II and III courses in that discipline, from those courses stipulated for the award of a Minor.

(g) Throughout the entire degree programme, no more than 30 credits (distributed so as not to exceed 12 credits in any one year of the full-time programme) may be selected from courses other than Humanities courses, except with the special permission of the Dean.

(h) Extra credits gained in any Level subsequent to the original credits required for the degree at that level cannot be substituted retroactively for the original credits.

THE DEGREE IN LIBERAL STUDIES

Many students matriculate into the University with little certainty of what they wish to study or even what discipline they would wish to major in. There are also students who enter with multiple interests that are not easily by a single or even double major. Increasingly employers are also interested in generalists who have achieved a good honours degree, regardless of discipline, since they come to the workplace with a broad knowledge base as well as strong analytical and social skills. The degree in Liberal Studies is therefore intended to satisfy a variety of needs of both students and potential employers.

The Liberal Studies Degree comprises a minimum of 90 credits distributed as follows:

- a) 24 credits in each of at least two (2) Faculty of Humanities and Education disciplines, AND
- b) 24 credits in any other discipline as specified by the Faculty concerned; OR 24 credits in each of three (3) Faculty of Humanities and Education disciplines
- c) 12 credits in Foundation courses as specified in 6 I (i) above;
- d) Up to 6 credits in electives.

No more than nine (9) of the 24 credits in each discipline can be taken at level I towards the degree and at least six (6) credits in each discipline must be done at level III.

SELECTION OF COURSES FROM THE FHE TOWARD THE DEGREE IN LIBERAL STUDIES MUST ONLY BE MADE FROM THOSE COURSES MARKED WITH AN ASTERISK (*) IN THE VARIOUS DISCIPLINES OF THE FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION OR FROM THOSE COURSES OTHERWISE DESIGNATED BY THE DEPARTMENT CONCERNED.

COMPULSORY RESEARCH-LINKED CREDITS

All BA students are required to take at least one 3-credit (minimum) Research-linked course from the Faculty approved list. (Courses may be added to the list by departments from time to time). As an alternative to this requirement, a student may, with permission of the Department concerned, be allowed to take a Research Project (AR3X0).

GUIDE TO REGISTRATION

Full-time Level I students should register for 30 credits for the year as follows:

1. Foundation courses FD14A/UC10A and UC10B: 6 credits
2. Compulsory courses for Majors : between 6 and 18 credits as prescribed
3. Non-Major Humanities courses: at least 9 credits
3. Other courses (open) : up to 12 credits

Part-time Level I students should register for the following number of credits for the year: Students with normal matriculation and lower level (i.e. one A Level): up to 21 credits which must include FD14A/UC10A and UC10B (6 credits optional from Social Sciences or other Humanities courses)

Students with lower level matriculation (with no A-Levels): up to 15 credits which must include FD14A/UC10A and UC10B

Students will not be allowed to register for level III unless they have passed FD14A/UC10A and UC10B

Part-time students, too, must observe the order of priority listed in 1-4 above, when choosing their courses.

N.B. UC010 does not count towards the degree and must be done on first registration at Level I. Full-time students registering for this course can take no more than 24 credits. Part-time students registering for this course can take no more than 15 credits. Students who do not successfully complete UC010 at entry level or the English Language Proficiency Test will not be allowed to proceed to the next level.

FULL-TIME PROGRAMME

8. (a) A full-time student shall normally complete the degree programme in not less than six and not more than twelve semesters and should normally register for not more than fifteen and not less than twelve credits per semester.

(b) A student will be required to withdraw from the Faculty unless he or she has gained at least:

- Twelve credits by the end of the second semester
- Twenty-four credits by the end of the fourth semester
- Thirty-nine credits by the end of the sixth semester
- Fifty-seven credits by the end of the eighth semester
- Seventy-five credits by the end of the tenth semester
- Ninety credits by the end of the twelfth semester.

For purposes of these Regulations, the semester referred to includes any summer session immediately following it.

PART-TIME PROGRAMME

IMPORTANT: Part-time is a matter of work-load, and does NOT mean evening studies. While some courses at Level I are offered in the evening, some subjects/courses for Level I are taught in the day only. Beyond Level I almost all courses are taught in the day only.

9. (a) A part-time student shall complete the degree in not less than eight and not more than eighteen semesters.
- (b) Normally, a part-time student will be required to spread the Level I programme over four semesters. The Foundation courses FD14A/UC10A and UC10B must be done at first registration.
- (c) Normally, no student (full or part time) will be permitted to register for level II courses unless he or she has gained at least 24 level I credits.
- (d) A part-time student will be required to withdraw from the Faculty unless he or she has gained at least:

Six credits by the end of the second semester

Twelve credits by the end of the fourth semester

Twenty-one credits by the end of the sixth semester

Thirty credits by the end of the eighth semester

Forty-two credits by the end of the tenth semester

Fifty-four credits by the end of the twelfth semester

Sixty-six credits by the end of the fourteenth semester

Seventy-eight credits by the end of the sixteenth semester

Ninety credits by the end of the eighteenth semester

For purposes of these Regulations, the semester referred to includes any summer session immediately following it.

TRANSFERS

All students wishing to transfer to another faculty must fill out Transfer Forms available at the Student Affairs office in the Registry by 31st March.

- A. Transfer from Part-time to Full-time Status and Vice Versa.
 - (i) Part-Time students with lower level matriculation may transfer to full time status after gaining 15 credits
 - (ii) Requests for change of status should be made online at the beginning of the academic year.
- B. Transfer to the Faculty of Humanities and Education from Other Faculties or Other Tertiary Institutions.
 - (i) Students transferring into the Faculty may request credit for, or exemption from, courses completed in another Faculty or Institution. They should apply in writing to the Dean specifying the course(s), the period of study, and the level obtained. They may be provisionally registered pending consideration of their request.
 - (ii) Exemptions and credits are not normally granted in respect of Level II and Level III courses.
 - (iii) Credit will not be given to a transfer student for passes obtained for Faculty courses in the Preliminary Year in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Sciences.

COURSE REGISTRATION/EXAMINATIONS AND LEAVE

- 10. (a) A course may be examined by one or more of the following: written examination papers, oral tests, course-work, or any other method or combination of methods approved by Senate.
- (b) A student failing a course that is not compulsory may substitute another course in a subsequent semester or may repeat the failed course.
- (c) In registering in the Faculty, students must obtain both departmental and faculty (Dean's) approval for courses selected.
- (d) Registration for a course constitutes registration for the examinations in that course.

- (e) A student who has registered for a course but who wishes to withdraw from that course must apply during the add/drop period to the Dean not later than the Friday of the first teaching week of the semester for permission to do so. Students are not permitted to drop year-long courses in semester 2.
- (f) A student who does not sit the examination in a course for which he or she is registered is deemed to have failed that examination unless permission to withdraw has been granted. This regulation shall not apply in cases of properly attested illness duly reported to the Campus Registry in accordance with the University Examinations Regulations.

Leave of Absence

- (g) A candidate who for good reason wishes to be absent from an academic programme for a semester or more must apply for formal leave of absence to the Campus Academic Board Sub-Committee on Student Matters, through the appropriate Dean, stating the reason for the application.
- (h) The length of such leave of absence, if granted, will be subject to approval by the Academic Board of the Campus concerned, but will not exceed one academic year in the first instance terminating at the end of the academic year for which the application is approved.
- (i) Leave of absence will not be granted for more than two consecutive academic years.
- (j) Applications for leave of absence for a semester shall be submitted by the end of the third week of the relevant semester.
- (k) Applications for leave of absence for the academic year shall be submitted by the end of the third week of Semester 1.

- (l) The attention of students is drawn to University Examination Regulation 25:

“Any candidate who has been absent from the University for a prolonged period during the teaching of a particular course for any reason other than illness or whose attendance at prescribed lectures, classes, practical classes, tutorials or clinical instructions has been unsatisfactory or who has failed to submit essays or other exercises set by his teachers may be debarred by the relevant Academic Board, on the recommendation of the relevant Faculty Board, from taking any University examinations.”

NO SUPPLEMENTALS ARE OFFERED TO LEVELS I AND II STUDENTS IN THE FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION

ORAL SUPPLEMENTAL FOR FINAL-YEAR STUDENTS

- (a) The Board of Examiners may recommend to the department concerned that a student who has failed the last and only course required to complete the degree be offered an oral examination in that course, provided that he/she has obtained at least 35% in that course.
- (b) If an Oral supplemental is granted, the student may choose to decline the offer.
- (c) The Oral Supplemental, which will be of a minimum length of one hour, will be held as soon as possible after the previous examination. The student must contact the Department concerned immediately so that arrangements may be made for the Oral.
- (d) The Oral Examination will concern the course as a whole, and not be restricted to the questions set in the examination which the student did.
- (e) If the examination is passed, the student cannot be awarded a grade higher than C1 in the case of students who registered prior to 2003/04, and this grade will replace that previously gained for the entire evaluation in that course.

- (f) If he/she fails the Oral, the student will not have the right of appeal or review.
- (g) A student will be allowed only one Oral Supplemental Examination for any one course.

NOTIFICATION OF RESULTS

11.(a) For those candidates who have completed the requirements for the BA degree a Pass List shall be arranged alphabetically in the following categories:

- (i) First Class Honours
- (ii) Second Class Honours
 - (a) Upper Division
 - (b) Lower Division
- (iii) Pass

THE POINTS SYSTEM (Applicable only to students who registered prior to 2003/04)

- (b) (i) The Class of degree depends on the number of points a student has accumulated in the best forty-eight credits obtained in the Level II and III courses which count for Honours in his/her Second and Third Level Programmes, as follows:

First Class	176 points and above
Second Class, Upper Division	112-175 points
Second Class, Lower Division	64-111 points
Pass	16-63 points

- (ii) This is based on a norm of sixteen 3-credit courses. Where a course taken has a 6-credit weighting, the points gained shall be doubled, and where it has a 2-credit, 4-credit, or 8-credit weighting, the points shall be pro-rated accordingly (eg. two-thirds).

(iv) The points are related to the Course Evaluation Grades and Percentages as follows:

Grade	Percentage	Points
Bare Pass	40-43	1
Clear C	44-47	2
Good C	48-49	3
Low B	50-53	4
Clear B	54-57	5
Good B	58-59	6
Low B+	60-63	7
Clear B+	64-67	9
Good B+	68-69	10
Low A	70-75	13
Clear A	76-85	14
Brilliant A	86+	16

AWARD OF HONOURS

12. (a) Honours shall be awarded taking into account all the courses designated Levels II and III only. However, students are reminded that they can take no more than 6 credits of Level I courses as part of the Level II programme and when Level I courses are so taken as part of the Level II programme, they will not count in determining Honours.
- (b) The award of Honours shall be assessed on the student's performance in the best 48 credits gained from Level II and Level III Faculty courses, inclusive of AR3X0, provided that credits for Level I courses taken in lieu of credits at Level II shall not count for Honours.
- (c) To be eligible for Honours a student must have obtained at first attempt at least 48 of the 54 Level II and III credits from which Honours are derived.
- (i) Such a student must not have failed more than 6 credits done for Level II and Level III credits, excluding the Level II Foundation courses.

- (ii) A course taken for credit and failed not more than twice shall be counted as one failure for the purpose of assessing Honours.
- (iii) A course taken in substitution for a course which has already been failed twice, if failed, shall be counted as an additional failure for the purpose of assessing Honours.
- (iv) Where a course which has been failed once is replaced by another course which is also failed, all subsequent failures in that or any other course shall count as additional for the purpose of assessing Honours.
- (v) A course designated at registration as not for credit (NFC) shall not count for the purpose of assessing Honours.

THE GPA SYSTEM (Effective for students admitted in 2003/04 and subsequently)

13. (a) In order to be eligible for the award of a degree candidates must have a GPA of at least 1.0. The class of degree depends on the cumulative Grade Point Average in all Level II and III courses.

First Class Honours
Weighted GPA 3.60 and above

Second Class Honours (Upper)
(Weighted GPA 3.00 – 3.59)

Second Class Honours (Lower)
Weighted GPA 2.00 – 2.99

Pass
Weighted GPA 1.00 – 1.99

- (b) The grade conversion table below shows the relationship between grades and corresponding Quality Points. (Students are strongly advised to read carefully The University of the West Indies GPA Regulations, effective Academic year 2003/04).

- (c) In the calculation of honours all level II AND III courses excluding Foundation courses (i.e. FD12A & FD13A) will be counted.

GRADE MARK		POINTS
A+	86% and above	4.3
A	70% - 85%	4.0
A-	67% - 69%	3.7
B+	63%- 66%	3.3
B	60% - 62%	3.0
B-	57% - 59%	2.7
C+	53% - 56%	2.3
C	50% - 52%	2.0
C-	47% - 49%	1.7
D+	43% - 46%	1.3
D	40% - 42%	1.0
F	0% - 39%	0.0

A student whose semester GPA is less than or equal to 0.75 will be deemed to be performing unsatisfactorily and will be placed on warning.

A student on warning whose semester GPA is less than or equal to 0.75 will be required to withdraw from the Faculty

AEGROTAT DEGREE

(See also University Examination Regulations)

13. A candidate who has been absent through illness for one or more examinations held in respect of Level II or Level III courses may apply for exemption from these examinations provided that:

- (a) no exemption shall be granted in respect of any course unless the candidate has successfully completed all the required work for the course and has achieved, in the opinion of his/her tutor(s) and of the Department, a satisfactory level of

- performance in the course;
- (b) no exemption shall be granted unless the candidate has obtained the minimum 30 Level I credits and at least twelve Level II credits;
 - (c) no exemption shall be granted in respect of any dissertation or project;
 - (d) the total number of credits for which exemption may be granted shall not exceed eighteen, except that where a student has satisfactorily completed both the Level I and Level II programmes exemption may be granted from a total of twenty-four credits.

Such exemption shall permit the student on completion of all the other requirements for the degree of BA to apply for an aegrotat degree.

MEDICAL CERTIFICATES

(See also University Examination Regulations)

14. Students who submit medical certificates as an excuse for absence from examinations should note that although each student is free to visit his/her private physician he/she is required, for the purpose of securing exemption from examinations, including coursework, to comply with the following:
- (a) to be examined by a medical practitioner from the University's panel of doctors; or
 - (b) in the event of illness being so acute that the student cannot subscribe to (a) above, he/she should obtain a medical certificate from his/her private physician and in addition the physician should be required to supply the University Student Medical Officer with the reasons for the student's absence from the examinations and;
 - (c) ensure that the report is submitted to the University Student Medical Officer.

REGULATIONS CONCERNING ABSENCE FROM COURSEWORK WITH

VALIDATED MEDICAL CERTIFICATE (See 14 above)

15. (i) If one test/essay/other written assignment is missed where more than one is required, the remaining test(s)/essay(s)/other written assignment(s) will count for the full coursework assessment.
- l. If all coursework is missed, a make-up test/essay/other written assignment may be given to cover the full assessment for coursework. Where no make-up test/essay/assignment is given, the examination should count for 100%.

GUIDELINES FOR PROBLEM RESOLUTION

In this Faculty the students in each course should elect a student representative for that course, to serve as a liaison representing students views to the Department. There are five student representatives to be elected by the students of the Faculty to sit on the Board of the Faculty, which is a forum for discussing academic and other policies and issues of the Faculty and which meets monthly.

Students who have complaints or problems may either themselves or via their course or Faculty representatives bring them to the attention first of their tutor or lecturer. If unresolved, they can then take the matter to the Head of the Department concerned, and subsequently to the Dean. If still unresolved, they can take the matter to the Deputy Principal.

PRIZES AND AWARDS

- (i) The Faculty has a wide range of prizes and awards available for outstanding students in all three years; eligibility for these prizes normally presupposes a minimum of a B+ average in the preceding year.
- (ii) Departmental prizes are available in all departments in the Faculty.
- (iii) History students are eligible for the following undergraduate prizes:

The Neville Hall Prize is awarded to the student with the best results in courses covering the History of the Americas in first, second or third year.

The Walter Rodney Prize is awarded to the student with the best results in courses concerned with the History of Africa in first, second or third year.

The Elsa Goveia Prize is awarded to the student with the best results in H20F: Conquest Colonization and Resistance in the Caribbean 1600-the end of Slavery, or H20G: Freedom, Decolonization and Independence in the Caribbean since 1804.

The Douglas Hall Prize is awarded to the student with the best results in H20E: Caribbean Economic History, and H30W: The Caribbean Economy since 1640. This competition covers all three campuses.

The Australasian History Prize is awarded to the student writing the best essay or examination answer bearing on the history of Australasia.

The Ilm-Al-Ahsan (Knowledge of Compassion) Prize is awarded to the student with the most outstanding performance in an Asian History courses.

The Vendryes Shield is awarded by the Jamaican Historical Society for the best A-grade Caribbean Study done in History.

Gladwyn Turbutt Prize in European History is awarded to the student with the best results in any Level III European History course.

Gladwyn Turbutt Prize in Archaeology is awarded to the student with the best results in any Level III Archaeology course.

Gladwyn Turbutt Prize in Atlantic History is awarded to the student with the best results in H16A: The Atlantic World 1400-1600.

Gladwyn Turbutt Prize in Historical Methodology is awarded to the student with the best results in H17C: Introduction to History.

- (iv) Faculty prizes are awarded in each of Years One and Two to the FIVE best students (all courses taken into consideration in the year of assessment preceding the award). In addition, the Mokiman Prize is available across campuses on a rotating basis to the best part-time/evening student upon completion of his/her First Year courses (30 credits).
- (v) The University recognizes the distinction achieved by its most outstanding student in each of Years One, Two and Three of the Undergraduate Programme by awarding to such students the Dean's Award for Excellence.
- (vi) The William Mailer Scholarship is available to a Final Year Student majoring in French at Mona. It is valued at J$25,000.00.
- (vii) There are two prizes for competition between/across Faculties:
 - (1) The Hugh Springer Prize, awarded to the most distinguished graduating student in the Faculties of Arts and Education and Social Sciences, and
 - (2) The B.W.I.A. Student of the Year Prize, normally awarded to a Second Year student at the Mona Campus (with no distinction as to Faculty) whose academic record is beyond reproach and whose participation in extra curricular activities (involvement in student activities, contribution to the development of student welfare, service to the extra-University Community, etc.) shows commitment, sense of service and leadership potential. Candidates for the prize are interviewed by a panel.

Students are reminded that in considering awards, the Prizes Committee bases its recommendation primarily on academic records and students are accordingly urged to strive for excellence. Each student so recognized receives an embossed certificate and either a cash sum, or books, or (as in (vi)) a medal. The awardee of The Hugh Springer Prize receives a book prize, while the winner of the B.W.I.A. Prize receives a free return trip to any Caribbean destination on the B.W.I.A. route.

Year Long Course

HUMN3099 RESEARCH PROJECT
(6 credits)
(AR3XO)

Prerequisite: Normally a minimum B+ average at Level II, except with special permission of the Head of the Department in which the project is proposed.

1. Students shall develop a topic which must be substantially different from any course-work in the programme undertaken by the student. The topic must be approved by the Moderator of AR3X0. In all cases, approval will only be given when the topic is feasible and a Supervisor has been identified. The topic need not be limited to the Caribbean.
2. An outline plan indicating the scope and organization of the proposed study should be submitted when seeking topic approval.
3. Topics approved by the Moderator shall be registered by the end of the registration week of the ensuing Semester 1.
4. The paper shall be between 5,000 and 8,000 words excluding bibliography, and must be of a quality appropriate to the work of an undergraduate in the final year of the degree course.
5. Each student shall arrange and observe a schedule of regular consultations with his/her Supervisor.
6. The paper shall be submitted to the Examinations Section, Registry by the first Tuesday in April, except where the Moderator in exceptional circumstances allows up to one more week.

7. In cases where all regulations governing Final Year Supplemental Examination have been met (i.e. that the candidate has only these 6 credits left to complete the degree and has obtained at least 35% in AR3X0) candidates who, having duly submitted, do not pass at the first attempt and wish to graduate without losing time may re-submit not later than the last Friday before the beginning of the next academic year.
8. Summer School Registration:
Students who need only AR3X0 to complete their degree or who will be registering in the Summer School for all remaining credits needed to complete their degree will be allowed to register for AR3X0 in the Summer School. Topics must be registered with the Moderator by 31st May and the study must be submitted not later than the last Friday before the beginning of the next academic year. Approval shall be subject to identification of an available Supervisor.
9. 100% on Research Project, which is to be submitted (on letter-sized paper, space and a half, 12 point) in both copy and diskette.

MEDIA AND COMMUNICATION

(All CARIMAC courses are closed to non-majors except where indicated otherwise)

LEVEL I

Semester 1

*COMM1110 COMMUNICATION CULTURE & CARIBBEAN SOCIETY
(MC10A)

(3 credits)

This is a core course which seeks to analyze the evolution of Caribbean culture by focussing on the various forms and media of communication through which that culture has been expressed historically and contemporarily.

Prerequisite: CARIMAC Admission Test for Majors.

COMM1510 WRITING FOR MEDIA
(MC12A)

(3 credits)

Students entering the institute are required to be highly proficient in the English Language. The objective of this course is to assist them in beginning to think like media practitioners, to learn the language of journalism and to sharpen their writing skills.

Prerequisite: CARIMAC Admission Test for Majors.

Semester 2

COMM1610 MEDIA TECHNOLOGY: PRINTING PRESS TO PODCAST (MC12B)

(3 credits)

Advances in technology have had an enormous impact on media and communication. Technology has meant changes in the way media products are consumed and how they are delivered. This course aims to give students a basic understanding of media technology and new developments. Students will look at how technology has affected and changed the media landscape.

Prerequisite: COMM1110 (MC10A) and COMM1510 (MC12A)

*COMM1410 UNDERSTANDING THE MEDIA (MC11U) (Electives for students in Diploma in Media and Communication)

(3 credits)

Special attention will be paid to the constraints and limitations influencing the products of media practitioners; the basis in identifying and selecting sources; and basic concepts in communication science such as effects of the media, audiences, media format, portrayal, etc.

Prerequisite: COMM1110 (MC10A) and COMM1510 (MC12A)

LEVEL II

Semester 1

*COMM2110 MEDIA ETHICS AND LEGAL ISSUES (MC20M)

(3 credits)

Professional practice within Caribbean media and communication systems are guided by legal and ethical norms which are not sufficiently known by communication practitioners. Presently, elements of these norms are taught within different technique areas at CARIMAC. The intention is to present a single main course on the topic, incorporating new areas of practice and spanning all existing technique areas. The course would also take more into account the need for critical assessment and reform of existing laws, ethical principles and professional applications, in light of changing technologies.

Prerequisite: Level I CARIMAC courses

*COMM2310 INTRODUCTION TO COMMUNICATION
(MC22A) RESEARCH METHODS
(3 credits)

This introductory course during the first Semester will deal with approaches to Mass Communication Research emphasizing various theoretical and research traditions, ranging from Mass Society Theory to the more critical Sociological perspective.

Prerequisite: None

COMM2111 BASIC BROADCASTING SKILLS I – RADIO
(MC23A)
(3 credits)

This course is designed to provide an understanding of the sound medium and to help the student acquire a command of the principles and techniques that underlie successful and effective radio programme production. The successful student would have acquired the skills to produce a series of features or profiles.

Prerequisite: Level 1 CARIMAC courses

COMM2188 BROADCAST JOURNALISM (Elective)
(MC23X) (Compulsory for Radio and Television Level II Degree students)
(3 credits)

This course aims to provide practitioners in training with a comprehensive exposure to journalism and professional news reporting techniques. The broadcast media sector in the Caribbean is expanding rapidly as new electronic media institutions are established. The course seeks to fill the need for increased number of practitioners trained in the specialist technique of broadcast journalism and in the informed and accurate reporting of public affairs.

Co-requisite: COMM2111 (MC23A) or COMM2112 (MC24A)

COMM2112 BASIC BROADCASTING SKILLS I - TV
(MC24A)

(3 credits)

A course designed to introduce the basic elements of television production: firstly examining the origins of film and the subsequent development of video up to the present day. It covers as well, writing skills and familiarization of the tools and techniques of the craft.

Prerequisite: Level 1 CARIMAC Courses

COMM2113 BASIC MULTI-MEDIA PRODUCTION I
(MC25A)

(3 credits)

An introduction to the use of digital media in the communication process. The sequence will focus on the use of computers for the expression and transmission of ideas, including graphics, sound, and electronic communication.

Prerequisite: Level 1 CARIMAC Courses

COMM2114 INTRODUCTION TO PUBLIC RELATIONS
(MC26A)

(3 credits)

The programme seeks to introduce the basic principles of public relations and to develop an understanding of how the principles relate to the practical world of the profession. Participants will be introduced to the theory and practice of public relations as well as the conditions of the profession. This includes examining the components of public relations, working with the media, collecting and analysing information, and evaluating the Public Relations Programme.

Prerequisite: Level 1 CARIMAC Courses

COMM2115 BASIC SOCIAL MARKETING I
(MC27A)

(3 credits)

The course aims to provide a foundation for the beginning student of Social Marketing. Students are introduced to the theory and practice of social marketing. Attention is given to the writing techniques applicable to the social marketing discipline as well as to various media. Design and composition of images and graphics are also explored in this course. The care and use of MAC computers are dealt with in brief orientation at the start of the semester.

Prerequisite: Level I CARIMAC courses

COMM2116 BASIC PRINT AND ON-LINE JOURNALISM I
(MC28A)

(3 credits)

By the end of this course the student should be able to apply the basic principles of news writing in news briefs and simple news stories.

COMM2129 DESKTOP PUBLISHING (Elective) (MC29D)

(3 credits)

This option will offer a combination of Word Processing, Desktop Publishing and Graphics for those who are more interested in the printing/artistic applications of the computer to communications. Successful applicants for the course will be selected on the basis of previous computer exposure and experience. Nevertheless, the first few weeks of the course will offer a review of computer basics, emphasizing, however, those aspects most useful and relevant to communication applications.

Prerequisite: Compulsory for Level II PR students, open to students of Text & Graphic and Social Marketing

COMM2128 MEDIA, GENDER AND DEVELOPMENT (Elective) (MC29G) Quota for Non-Majors

(3 credits)

The central focus of this course is to understand and critique the role of the media in constructing and perpetuating notions of gender and development. By the end of the course, students should be able to apply gender analysis in interpreting and deconstructing media content; and in producing media content.

Prerequisite: None

COMM2148 ORGANIZATIONAL COMMUNICATION (Elective)
(MC29Z) (Compulsory for Level II PR students)

(3 credits)

Organisational Communication introduces students to the communication processes, both internal and external, as they relate to organisations. The course goes beyond theories and concepts to demonstrate how these principles may and should be applied in the working environment, and can assist in the decision-making process in both private and public entities in Jamaica, and the wider Caribbean.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

COMM2210 COMMUNICATION ANALYSIS AND PLANNING I
(MC20C)

(3 credits)

The aim of this course is to introduce participants to the multiple functions of communication as a tool of development as well as practical application of communication support activities in the implementation of development projects. Tutorials take a case-study approach in order to allow the student greater understanding of how communication approaches and methods can be used to solve very practical and commonplace problems. On the completion of the course the student should be able to design workable programmes and projects for specific situations and needs.

Prerequisite: Level I CARIMAC courses

*COMM2110 MEDIA ETHICS AND LEGAL ISSUES
(MC20M)

(3 credits)

Professional practice within Caribbean media and communication systems are guided by legal and ethical norms which are not sufficiently known by communication practitioners. Presently, elements of these norms are taught within different technique areas at CARIMAC. The intention is to present a single main course on the topic, incorporating new areas of practice and spanning all existing technique areas. The course would also take more into account the need for critical assessment and reform of existing laws, ethical principles and professional applications, in light of changing technologies.

Prerequisite: Level I CARIMAC courses

COMM2268 VISUAL COMMUNICATION (MC20T)

(3 credits)

Visual Communication is an exploration into the idea that memorable visual messages with text have the greatest power to inform, educate and persuade an individual. The course is an attempt to discover why some images are remembered while most are not. The course will be of interest to students working with multimedia technologies or students studying art philosophy, art philosophy, art education and psychology. CARIMAC students specialising in journalism, multimedia, social marketing and television production will find this course particularly useful. The course is also open to non-majors.

Prerequisite: None

COMM2211 BASIC BROADCASTING SKILLS II – RADIO
(MC23B)

(3 credits)

This course is designed to provide a greater degree of understanding of the sound medium and to give the students, at a higher level, the skills necessary for an entry to a radio production position in a radio station. The students who successfully complete this course should be able to conceptualize a radio programme of any type, develop components for that programme, write, promote and produce it. He/she should be able to sell the idea or pilot to a potential sponsor.

Prerequisite: COMM2111 (MC23A)

COMM2212 BASIC BROADCASTING SKILLS II - TV
(MC24B)

(3 credits)

Through group and individual exercises students will learn basic writing skills, electronic photography, audio control, lighting, graphics and electronic editing. Students will work with half-inch

(1/2") and three-quarter (3/4") videotapes.

Prerequisite: COMM2112 (MC24A)

COMM2213 BASIC MULTI-MEDIA PRODUCTION II
(MC25B)

(3 credits)

Students will continue to build on the use of digital media in the communication process. The sequence will focus on the use of computers for the expression and transmission of ideas, including graphics, sound and electronic communication.

Prerequisite: COMM2113 (MC25)

COMM2214 THE PRACTICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS
(MC26B)

(3 credits)

The programme examines the principles and practice of public relations as a problem-solving process. Using theoretical and applied communication strategies, the programme will enhance an understanding of public relations as an inter-disciplinary field, and as a management tool. There will be some exposure to the practice of public relations, with reference to career opportunities. Practitioners will be guest presenters to further emphasize the applied nature of the programme.

Prerequisite: COMM2114 (MC26A)

COMM2215 BASIC SOCIAL MARKETING II
(MC27B)

(3 credits)

Students are provided with hands-on experience in using digital technology in composing and creating still and moving images. The basic technique skills cover, through lectures and demonstrations, the composition and recording of images as well as the uploading and editing of these images ensuring the logical synchrony of sound and image. Having identified a social issue or theme, students are expected to create video productions and synchronised slide presentations with careful attention to sequencing.

Prerequisite: COMM2115 (MC27A)

COMM2216 BASIC PRINT & ON-LINE JOURNALISM II
(MC28B)

(3 credits)

By the end of this course the student should be able to choose a feature format that is most appropriate in different circumstances. Also he should be able to write an interview and a news feature.

Prerequisite: COMM2116 (MC28A)

COMM2228 THE ART OF FEATURE WRITING (Elective) (MC29A) Quota for Non-Majors

(3 credits)

The course will deal with the writing of essays, interviews and profiles, and the writing of feature articles for newspapers and magazines. The course will stress the constant need for thorough research and in-depth reporting as the foundation on which memorable articles are built.

Prerequisite: None

COMM2428 EFFECTIVE MANAGEMENT COMMUNICATION
(MC29C)

(3 credits)

This course is designed to help students develop effective management communication and presentation skills. It offers a practical and analytical approach to the development of content and style in management communication with an emphasis on the relationship between creative, independent and logical thinking and the solution of business problems. The focus will be on enhancing the ability of students to demonstrate such thinking through effective written and oral communication, complemented by the development and refinement of appropriate presentation skills.

Prerequisite: FOUN1001 (FD10A) / FOUN1299 (UC120)

COMM2229 ELECTRONIC PUBLISHING (Elective)
(MC29E)

(3 credits)

Development in electronics have widened the scope, access and span of publishing. The new technologies require new formats and approaches in communication as a practical level. This course should provide students with essential information about all phases of publishing on line. Students should be able to understand the basic principles of electronic publishing and be able to use commonly available technology in publishing.

Prerequisite: COMM2116 (MC28A)

COMM2248 SCIENCE, SOCIETY AND MEDIA (Elective)
(MC29S) (Not offered in 2006/2007)
(3 credits)

This course is designed to provide for the student who wishes to develop expertise as a communicator in Science and Technology, a grounding in the general principles (not the technical details) of Science and Technology and basic skills for Science Journalism.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL III

Semester 1

COMM3128 MEDIA AUDIENCES AND EFFECTS
(MC31M) (Not offered in 2006/2007)
(3 credits)

Mass media has become the most powerful agents of cultural change and it is increasingly apparent that many media effects may be harmful to the physical and psychological health of society. Media effects have become an issue of public concern worldwide. Efforts to change behaviour in order to enhance the possibilities of survival (in relation to health; HIV/AIDS; environmental degradation) have not been very successful. Messages meant to lead to desired change are not working and many change agents have found themselves stalemated by countervailing media effects. In response to these effects academics around the world have been conducting increasingly sophisticated studies into the complicated nature of how mass audiences receive and make use of information. They have been developing new theories and strategies to counter harmful media effects. It is becoming increasingly important to understand these studies, theories and strategies in order to be able to deal with the new and developing challenges.

Prerequisite: COMM1410 (MC11U)

COMM3111 ADVANCED BROADCASTING SKILLS I - RADIO
(MC33A)

(3 credits)

This course is designed to polish the student's skills of advanced radio production. Attention will be paid to advanced performer techniques, interviewing, and the creation of current affairs programmes and radio documentaries.

Prerequisites: COMM2211 (MC23B)

COMM3112 ADVANCED BROADCASTING SKILLS I - TV
(MC34A)

(3 credits)

Designed for the student to pursue advanced study of production for television. This covers the stages of writing for the visual medium, fact and fiction, studio operations and production management.

Prerequisites: COMM2212 (MC24B)

COMM3113 ADVANCED MULTI-MEDIA PRODUCTION I
(MC35A)

(3 credits)

Exploration of further techniques for digital media in communication. Builds on the basic sequence, adding three-dimensional graphics, music composition, interactive multi-media design and web publishing.

Prerequisites: COMM2213 (MC25B)

COMM3114 ADVANCED PUBLIC RELATIONS I
(MC36A)

(3 credits)

The advanced course in Public Relations builds on the theoretical and practical elements introduced in Level II. Students are exposed to the specialised techniques, strategies and tactics which are critical to successful public relations practice, through participation in real-world exercises and a compulsory internship programme. The course places emphasis on learning by doing. The critical examination case studies, interaction with professionals in the field and the survey of available literature are other approaches which are utilised.

Prerequisite: COMM2214 (MC26B)

COMM3115 ADVANCED SOCIAL MARKETING I
(MC37A)

(3 credits)

At this level, the course aims to continue exposing students to a variety of production formats that the social marketer can utilise in disseminating the socially beneficial message. Having been exposed to writing, digital video production and photography, graphic design, synchro-slide presentation, students now move on to proposal writing and speech presentation skills, research in the social marketing process and website design. The emphasis is on production rather than instruction, as students work towards set deadlines on their own under minimal yet careful supervision.

Prerequisites: COMM2115 (MC27A) and COMM2215 (MC27B)

COMM3116 ADVANCED PRINT & ON-LINE JOURNALISM I
(MC38A)

(3 credits)

The main component of the course is the production of a newspaper/magazine. Students are the editors of the newspaper and will carry all responsibilities that are related to writing and producing the paper.

Prerequisites: COMM2216 (MC28B)

COMM3129 ADVERTISING AND COPYWRITING (Elective)
(MC39A)

(3 credits)

The course offers an introduction to the concept of advertising and the functions of advertising agencies and advertisers. It examines ideas, images and symbols with specific reference to the Caribbean situation. It looks at approaches in advertising for mass and specialised audiences using the appropriate media.

Prerequisite: COMM3111 (MC33A) or COMM3112 (MC34A) or permission from Lecturer

COMM3148 ALTERNATIVE MEDIA AND COMMUNITY-BASED INITIATIVES (MC39I) (3 credits)

The course is designed to broaden students' understanding of media beyond traditional mass media and to introduce interpersonal communication and "edutainment" techniques as important media and communication channels in public awareness building, social and behaviour change promotion, and community empowerment. The course also offers an avenue for academic research on the Caribbean experience with alternative media in development.

Prerequisite: None

Year Long

COM3910 COMMUNICATION ANALYSIS AND PLANNING II (MC310) May be taken as a substitute for HUMN3099 (AR3X0) (6 credits)

This course is designed to offer participants the opportunity to investigate and formulate in writing a feasible communication project capable of attracting funding and to implement funding. The emphasis is on the supportive function of communications within specific projects for development, whether in agriculture, culture, health, population, education and others. Having completed this course, participants should be able to conduct research for purposes of project planning and evaluation; write proposals for communication support projects; plan, implement and manage such projects and assess the progress of these projects through evaluation.

Instruction: Independent research and project implementation supervised by Lecturer.

Prerequisite: COMM2210 (MC20C)

Semester 2

COMM3211 ADVANCED BROADCASTING SKILLS II - RADIO (MC33B) (3 credits)

This course continues to hone the student's production skills, with an emphasis on dramatised features, interpreting scripts, and the writing and production of radio commercials, and public service announcements.

Prerequisites: COMM3111 (MC33A)

COMM3212 ADVANCED BROADCASTING SKILLS II - TV
(MC34B)

(3 credits)

To expose the students to creative experiences in both concept and production phases of television. To develop technical skills for bringing a variety of concepts to the viewer. To conceptualize and execute a studio production in an "On Air" situation.

Prerequisites: COMM3112 (MC34A)

COMM3213 ADVANCED MULTI-MEDIA PRODUCTION II
(MC35B)

(3 credits)

Exploration of further techniques for digital media in communication. Builds on the basic sequence, adding three-dimensional graphics, music composition, interactive multi-media design and web publishing.

Prerequisites: COMM3113 (MC35A)

COMM3214 ADVANCED PUBLIC RELATIONS II
(MC36B)

(3 credits)

The course aims to prepare finalising students majoring in Public Relations with the requisite skills and competences in and knowledge of Public Relations so that they will be able to function and add value to their place of employment on entering the world of work.

Prerequisite: COMM3114 (MC36A)

COMM3215 ADVANCED SOCIAL MARKETING II
(MC37B)

(3 credits)

Through individual and group work, the course will provide an opportunity for students to explore a feasible topic regarding a social issue which will be the theme for their major visual display that will be mounted for an identified target group by the middle of the semester. Additionally students will get a chance to practice their acquired skills in the work setting through their attachments to organisations involved in social marketing.

Prerequisites: COMM2115 (MC27A), COMM2215 (MC27B) and COMM3115 (MC37A)

COMM3216 ADVANCED PRINT & ON-LINE JOURNALISM II
(MC38B)

(3 credits)

The main component of the Third Year course is the production of a newspaper/magazine. Students are the editors of the newspaper and will carry all responsibilities that are related to writing and producing the paper.

Prerequisite: COMM3116 (MC38A)

COMM3269 BUSINESS JOURNALISM
(MC39B)

(3 credits)

This course is intended to introduce students to the basics of reporting business and economic affairs. Business and economic news is of increasing importance to the regional economy. On successfully completing this course, students should be able to: report on business matters; use statistics in reporting, translate jargon into news and feature stories, apply reporting skills to budgets and national economies, produce news stories from corporate and institutional sources, as well as to write business stories from non-business sources.

Prerequisites: None

COMM3428 MEDIA AND CHILDREN (MC39C)

(3 credits)

In Media and Communication Studies "media influence and children" is becoming a more and more frequently researched topic, although still with many areas of ignorance. Some of these reflect voids in other disciplines such as psychology and pedagogy. International research has focused on establishing the correlation between the intended, and the, perhaps more important, unintended effects of for instance television viewing and children's behaviour. In advertising studies the emphasis has mainly been on children's brand awareness, brand attitudes and purchase intentions. Other areas of concern that sparked an increased interest in the possible media effects on children are risky sexual behaviour and increased violence. Over the last fifteen years, a new set of media has emerged and is challenging us to develop a much wider frame of reference: internet with its range of uses, videogames, music videos etcetera. Recent effect studies emphasise the complexity of media as socialising agents-never operating in isolation, often depending on intermediating factors-and the many individual and social differences between audiences at the receiving end. In addition, socio-economic status, gender and age may all make a difference. The debate on these topics is controversial.

Prerequisites: None

COMM3248 ENTREPRENUERIAL SKILLS IN THE COMMUNICATION INDUSTRY

(MC39E)

(3 credits)

Some students who graduate from the University of the West Indies, having specialised in Media and Communication are equipped with the theoretical and practical skills to enable them to produce a workable business plan. This course is one of the new initiatives seeking to bridge the gap between theory and practice.

Prerequisite: None

COMM3249 INTRODUCTION TO BROADCAST MEDIA MANAGEMENT

(MC39M)

(Elective)

(3 credits)

This course intends to prepare the student for a leadership role in Broadcast Media Management in his/her respective territory, by exploring the basic concepts of management in the Caribbean Society.

Prerequisite: None

COMM3428 ADVANCED COMMUNICATION RESEARCH (MC39R) METHODS

(3 credits)

This part of the course will deal in depth with the issues in communication research and the research methodologies. Emphasis will be on practical application as far as is possible. Each research methodology presented will be accompanied with a class assignment on its application and use. There will also be opportunity for guest presentations by research practitioners in the field.

Prerequisite: COMM2310 (MC22A)

COMM3329 SPORTS AND MEDIA (Elective)
(MC39S) (Not Offered in 2006/2007)

(3 credits)

The objective of this course is to improve/modernize the standards of sport journalism in the region and to locate sport as an important aspect of the Caribbean cultural milieu.

Prerequisite: None

COMM3268 ISSUES IN MEDIA AND COMMUNICATION (MC39U) (Elective)

(3 credits)

The objective of this course is to synthesize issues related to communication theory and the activities of professional practitioners; to explore avenues and outlets for the practical application of acquired skills outside the mainstream media; to contextualise the need for life-long learning in a changing technological and media environment; and, to explore more deeply enduring communication policy issues that will impact on professional practices in the foreseeable future.

Prerequisite: None

CULTURAL STUDIES

Semester 1

LEVEL II

GEND2001 (AR20A) GENDER IN CARIBBEAN CULTURE I

(3 credits)

In this course the focus is on the construction of femininity and masculinity in Caribbean culture. The course is interdisciplinary and in this semester highly theoretical, exposing students to a sound conceptual understanding of gender, its biological, psychological and material basis, and examining its socially constructed components. This understanding is placed in the context of the accelerated development of feminist theory and the concept of gender in the twentieth century. On this theoretical base the course engages in an analysis of gender within the Caribbean, examining historical antecedents and agents of social gender which include religion, media, family and education.

Prerequisites: There are no prerequisites for the course but students who have a grounding in social theory - economics, sociology or political science and/or who have previously done courses or components of courses which include gender are better equipped to cope with the theoretical slant of the course.

CLTR2521 (AR20R) INTRODUCTION TO CARIBBEAN FOLK PHILOSOPHY

(3 credits)

The highlights of the resistance philosophy and practice viewed through the inner logic of the folk imagination are central in deconstructing the often imposed binary categories which seek to evaluate and often devalue the work of organic scholars as impassioned, disorganised and lacking in intellectual rigor. The course introduces students to the concept of “Folk Philosophy” as a Caribbean critical intellectual tradition developed and advanced by unlettered thinkers. It highlights the contribution in particular that of ideology and praxis of key agents in establishing discourses on New World being and the interpretation of the experiences since slave emancipation. These ideas will be discussed in light of national heroes, official and unofficial, as agents in the construction of a Caribbean Folk Philosophy.

Prerequisite: None

CLTR2500 INTRODUCTION TO CARIBBEAN CULTURAL STUDIES (AR25A)

(3 credits)

This course intends to introduce students to the main cultural practices in the Caribbean with particular emphasis on Jamaica, and to relate them to the study of culture in the Caribbean. Students will be expected to analyze the impact of race, class and gender experiences in Caribbean Cultural practices, and to interpret cultural expression in its broadest political sense. They will be expected to show familiarity with the leading intellectual interpretations of Caribbean culture.

Prerequisite: None

CLTR2520 THE CULTURE OF RASTAFARI (AR25R)

(3 credits)

This course offers an introduction to some of the central ideas and issues related to the Culture of Rastafari. The objective is to allow students to view a range of cultural artefacts and texts produced by and about Rastafari in order to interpret and assess the significance of the Movement's emergence. Development and contribution to local sensibilities as well as global thought and practice.

Prerequisite: None

COMM2268 ENTERTAINMENT, MEDIA & CULTURE
(MC29M)

(3 credits)

The convergence of entertainment, media, technology and culture industries has created a phenomenon that generates more than U.S. $1.2 trillion dollars annually. The Caribbean stands as one of the most dynamic creators of these creative content and therefore holds a significant stake in these content driven industries. This course seeks to introduce students to selected Caribbean cultural industry areas of the arts, music, live and media entertainment among others. Students will be exposed to the operation of these areas in the Caribbean and will be expected to critically assess the contribution cultural enterprise can make to the region.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

GEND2002 GENDER IN CARIBBEAN CULTURE II (AR20B)

(3 credits)

This course extends the critical and theoretical issues raised in GEND2001 (AR20A) through detailed analysis and application of a gender perspective to Literature, Popular Culture and Linguistics. The course in this semester has a practical focus and students are expected to carry out research selected in one of those areas for their coursework assignments.

Prerequisite: GEND2001 (AR20A)

CLTR2510 CARIBBEAN FILMS AND THEIR FICTIONS (AR25F)

(3 credits)

This course intends to introduce students to Caribbean filmic expression in seminal works across the three main linguistic areas of the region; to develop a sensibility for a Caribbean film aesthetic; to comparatively analyze the transposing of literary works of fiction into these filmic expressions or vice-versa, and to understand the canonical constructions invested in these cultural explorations.

Prerequisite: None

CLTR2530 DE-CONSTRUCTING THE CULTURE OF SPORTS (AR25S)

(3 credits)

This course intends to introduce students to sports as a cultural ground for analysing and interpreting individual and group dynamics (in teams, clubs, institutions, and by extension the nation). By identifying and discussing various sports such as boxing, baseball, track and field, cricket, football, tennis and netball...games played in the African Diaspora...the course is also designed to sensitise participants to the psychological, social, economic and political influences and issues that impact on the development of sports in the Caribbean: with the aim to assess strengths and weaknesses...develop strategies for sustainable development.

Prerequisite: None

CLTR2540 AFRICAN RELIGIOUS RETENTIONS IN THE (AR25X) CARIBBEAN

(3 credits)

The course is intended for students whose interest is to increase their awareness of the contribution of Africa and its peoples to some of the expressions of religion within the Caribbean.

Prerequisite: None

LITS2706 REGGAE POETRY
(E 27F)

(3 credits)

The course introduces students to fundamental issues in the study of poetry, providing them with the basic tool and vocabulary of literary analysis. Focusing on the critique of reggae lyrics and poetry, the course traces the verbal patterns and figures of selected song-texts. The rhetorical and performative styles of the genre are fore-grounded. In addition, students are required to pay attention to the socio-historical context out of which the music emerges from its hybrid origins in both Jamaican folk forms and imported Rhythm and Blues. The dancehall/reggae derivatives of "classic" reggae are also included. The course begins with a survey of the development of reggae music, employing the four-phase structure of the Island Records' compilation, Tougher than Tough: The Story of Jamaican Music, which documents the period 1958-94. Post 1994 developments in the genre are taken into account. The course then proceeds to analyse in detail representative song texts from the corpus of at least five major songwriters/performers such as Burning Spear, Bob Marley, Peter Tosh, Bunny Wailer, The I-Threes, Jimmy Cliff, Third World, Steel Pulse, Lady Saw and Buju Banton. Analysis of music videos and films illustrates the performative elements of the song-texts.

Prerequisites: None

LEVEL III

Semester 2

CLTR3500 DISCOURSES IN CULTURAL STUDIES (AR35A)

(3 credits)

The course is intended to introduce students to the expanse of the Cultural Studies disciplinary terrain, its method of inquiry, its contribution and essential nature. This will be achieved by close examination of the process of institutionalisation and the spread of Cultural Studies throughout the Northern and Southern hemispheres. From its original interests in working class cultures, youth subcultures and the media, and using the Birmingham and Frankfurt Schools as a sort of intellectual and historical beginning, students metaphorically traverse a Cultural Studies map of practice and discourse. Students will study both the methods and objects of Cultural Studies Scholarship. Key questions are answered, such as –What is Culture? How do we analyse popular and expressive cultural practices? What is the relationship between culture and economic or political structures? How are cultural meanings produced, circulated and consumed? How do cultural formation produce collective agency and individuated subjectivity? What is subculture? How we examine models of counter-culture? What is the relationship between urban, performance and the body? What models of nation and/or community are to be found in the popular?

Prerequisite: CLTR2500 (AR25A)

CLTR3520 RASTAFARI IN THE GLOBAL CONTEXT (AR35R)

(3 credits)

Since the inception of the Rastafari Movement in Jamaica in the 1930's, there has been a significant dispersal of the faith, practice and influence, not only in the Caribbean but throughout the world. It is said that all nations now manifest the faith of Rastafari. This course maps the global spread of the Rastafari Movement along with the issues, new directions and problematic related to this cultural manifestation outside of its original Jamaican locus.

Prerequisite: CLTR2520 (AR25R) or SOCI3025 (SY36C) or GOVT2012 (GT23M)

Year Long

CLTR3521 REGGAE AESTHETICS AND AFRICAN DIASPORA (AR333) RESISTANCE

(6 credits)

Applying Kwame Dawes' notion of a "Reggae Aesthetic" to Caribbean experience within the past 30 years, this course seeks to configure a way of viewing and representing the African Diaspora as a "rhythmic" expression of beauty. Through an examination of multi-textual representation (film, food music, art and dance traditions) Reggae as an ethos and a Rastafari inspired aesthetic of Caribbean discourses is engaged. Students are guided by a weekly seminar through an array of texts and cultural products in order to assess the contribution and critique the works of the creative imagination within its frame.

Prerequisite: CLTR2510 (AR25F) or GOVT2012 (GT23M)

(3 credits)

This course focuses on selected issues in writing across the Caribbean, including the following topics (with emphases which may vary from time to time): the treatment of history, nationalism, gender concerns, neo-colonialism, anti-imperialism and Marxism, religion, choice of language, narrative technique, orature, magic realism, Caribbean literature as counter-discourse.

Prerequisite: A Level literature or one literature course from the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures or the Department of Literatures in English.

GENDER AND DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES

LEVEL II

Semester 1

GEND2001 GENDER IN CARIBBEAN CULTURE I: (AR20A) THEORETICAL ISSUES, HISTORY & THEOLOGY (3 credits)

Gender Studies is an outgrowth of Women's Studies and both of these areas of study have emerged directly out of the Women's Movement. Unlike Women's Studies where the central focus is the understanding and interpretation of women's lives, Gender Studies examines the ongoing construction of both masculinity and femininity in society and the relationships between them. In doing this, Gender Studies aims at developing a more incisive understanding of why sexual difference has created a hierarchical imbalance between males and females in society.

This course focuses on the construction of masculinity and femininity in Caribbean Culture. Many of the concepts and issues explored in this course have their origins in History and Theology which have treated gender as a 'natural' phenomenon in society. These concepts will be challenged in relation to gender discourses which challenge accepted views. Focus is also turned on the ways in which gender is constructed as a social category in culture through a variety of frameworks, among them, national struggles and the primary agents of socialization.

Prerequisites: There are no prerequisites for the course but students who have a grounding in social theory - economics, sociology or political science and/or who have previously done courses or components of courses which include gender are better equipped to cope with the theoretical slant of the course.

GEND2101 INTRODUCTION TO WOMEN'S STUDIES 1: (AR21A) THEORETICAL, METHODOLOGICAL AND HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES
 (3 credits)

This course exposes students to the theoretical foundations, methodological underpinnings and historical background to feminism and to women's studies. The focus on this course is the development of feminist theory and its application to an analysis of femininity in Caribbean society in relation to Caribbean masculinity. The development of various perspectives and concepts in global feminist theory and its applicability to the Caribbean comprises a major part of this first semester. The history of female subordination in Caribbean society is considered and methodological tools for carrying out analysis of women and gender in society are explored.

Prerequisite: There are no prerequisites for the course but students who have a grounding in social theory - economics, sociology or political science and/or literary criticism, or who have previously done courses or components of courses which include women and/or gender are better equipped to cope with the theoretical slant of this course.

Semester 2

GEND2002 GENDER IN CARIBBEAN CULTURE II : (AR20B) LITERATURE, POPULAR CULTURE AND LINGUISTICS
 (3 credits)

This course extends the critical and theoretical issues raised in GEND2001(AR20A) through detailed analysis and application of a gender perspective to Literature, Popular Culture and Linguistics. The course in this semester has a practical focus and students are expected to carry out research selected in one of these areas for their coursework assignments.

Prerequisite: GEND2001 (AR20A) or GEND2101 (AR21A)

GEND2102 INTRODUCTION TO WOMEN'S STUDIES II: (AR21B) CULTURAL AND SOCIAL ISSUES
 (3 credits)

This course extends the application of feminist analysis to an examination of sexual and reproductive rights of women, the study of women and men in the family, the role of women in the economy and the portrayal of women in written and audio-visual media in Caribbean society. The course in this semester includes a practical focus where students are expected to apply methodological tools to analyse social phenomena as they affect the status of women in society vis a vis men.

Prerequisite: GEND2101(AR21A)or GEND 2001 (AR20A)

Year Long Course

GEND2099 LITERATURE AND IDEAS IN THE (AR200) CARIBBEAN (Upgraded from AR100)
 (6 credits)

An inter-departmental course on selected issues in writing from across the Caribbean which examines how and why writers have given literary form to the ideas which concern them. At least six (6) texts in a variety of genres will be studied. Subjects may include the treatment of history, the folk, religion; the relationship of the writer to the world she/he presents; choice of language and narrative technique; Africa versus Europe; nationalism, neo-colonialism, anti-imperialism and Marxism, Caribbean literature as counter-discourse. Texts from the French and Spanish-speaking Caribbean will be studied in English translation. (Texts will vary with selected issues from year to year, but would normally not repeat areas covered by other courses in the programme).

Prerequisite: There are no prerequisites for this course but the approaches to Caribbean literature versus the comparative approach.

Semester 2: Seminars by students on research topics and texts proposed for their studies.

Semester 1

HIST2006 CONQUEST, COLONIZATION AND RESISTANCE IN THE CARIBBEAN, 1600 - THE END OF SLAVERY
(H 20F)

(3 credits)

N.B.: Can only be taken for Year II credit [Compulsory for all History Majors and Specials]

This course, which spans the period 1600-1886, examines the primary forces and characteristic features evident in the Caribbean between the European invasion and the ending of the various slave regimes. It is concerned with the ways in which conquer, colonization, revolution of the plantation system, slavery and imperialism affected the course of Caribbean history and fostered a spirit of resistance in its indigenous and enslaved African people. It looks comparatively at the slave regimes in the Anglophone, Francophone and Hispanophone Caribbean and examines the degree to which the exploited and marginalised [male and female] were able to refashion their world and bring about a collapse of slavery and the plantation system. A significant objective of the course is to use the revisionist sources to interrogate the traditional and often racist/Eurocentric representations of Caribbean history and facilitate an engagement with counter-discourse. The course will pay attention to the diversity of Caribbean populations and take on broad issues of class, colour, gender and ethnicity.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2103 LATIN AMERICA 1600 - 1870: FROM COLONIALISM TO NEO-COLONIALISM

(H 21C)

(3 credits)

This course will examine how the Iberians established political, economic, cultural and social control over the Americas, and how this domination, exercised through religious, economic, administrative institutions, as well as by maturing concepts of inequality and racism was internalised or opposed by the "subject people". It will then discuss the limited objectives of the liberation movements in Latin America in the early 19th century, liberalism as a modernising concept and simultaneously as a force for the establishment of new patterns of domination from Europe.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2203 PEOPLES, WARS AND REVOLUTIONS: NORTH (H 22C) AMERICA FROM 1870

(3 credits)

This course represents an attempt to broaden the view of 'America' to mean more than the United States of America. On the North American continent there were shared experiences of contact between peoples, of wars. Of revolutions, among other things, which call for a wholistic approach rather than the peculiarist examination of the History of the United States.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2301 THE STATE & DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA
(H 23C) 1800 - 1900

(3 credits)

The course examines the nature of the indigenous state structures and economic development before going on to discuss the following themes: European occupation of Africa and the evolution of the colonial state; relations between the colonial state and the world religions - Islam and Christianity - as cultural forces of change; the colonial state and the economic re-orientation of African societies - the abolition of domestic slavery, cash-cropping monetisation and evolution of the factor-market in Africa.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2403 REVOLUTION AND INDUSTRIALISATION IN (H 24C) 19th CENTURY EUROPE

(3 credits)

An examination of the nature and consequences of the French Revolution and the Industrial Revolution for the politics and society of Europe between the Old Regime and the First World War. Themes studied: the French Revolution and its impact in Continental Europe; economic and social change during the period of industrialization; the revolutions of 1848 and the growth of the socialist movement; nationalism and national unification; aspects of modernization.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2503 HISTORY OF MODERN CHINA
(H 25C)

(3 credits)

A comprehensive examination of the evolution of China from the seventeenth century to the present. Broad patterns of economic, political, social and cultural development; the importance of tradition; western intrusion; modernisation and industrialisation; the rise of nationalism and revolutionary movements.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2601 IMPERIALISM 1763-1918
(H 26A)

(3 credits)

NOTE: May be taken either for Level II or III credits.

An examination of the decline and revival of imperialism culminating in the phenomenon called the "New Imperialism". Special attention will be paid to the rise of industrial capital, industrialization and free trade, the impact of revolution and industry on the process of empire-building. The role played by explorers, traders, missionaries, industrialists, military, naval and other personnel, as well as the emergence of new imperial powers particularly Germany, Italy, Japan, Belgium and the United States, and their impact, will also be treated.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2603 INTERNATIONAL ECONOMY SINCE 1850

(H 26C)

(3 credits)

The history of the world economy from free Trade to Bretton Woods, with a survey of developments since 1945. Themes studied: cycles and phases; technology; migration; and labour systems; capital flows; business organisation; tariffs and trade; monetary systems; imperialism and the Third World.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2804 A SURVEY OF WORLD PREHISTORY

(H 28D)

[Compulsory for all History/Archaeology Majors and Specials]

(3 credits)

A survey of human and cultural evolution in both the Old and New Worlds up to the beginnings of "civilization".

Prerequisite: Pass in any Archaeology course.

Semester 2

HIST2007 FREEDOM, DECOLONIZATION & INDEPENDENCE IN THE CARIBBEAN SINCE 1804

(H 20G)

(3 credits)

N.B. Can only be taken for Year II credit. [Compulsory for all History Majors and Specials]

A comparative examination of the disintegration of the ancient regime - the slave systems and supporting mercantile structures - and new modes of social and economic survival within the context of the rise of modernising nationalist states. The central concept is the degree of continuity and change within the process of transformation at all levels. International relations and the maturing of regional identity are also discussed.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2104 SOCIETIES AND ECONOMICS IN LATIN
(H 21D) AMERICA FROM 1870

(3 credits)

This course will begin with the response of Latin America to world economic expansion in the late 19th century, and the social changes, emerging out of the interaction of Latin America's economies with international economic trends, induced rapid urbanization, manufacturing capabilities, ideological change, social legislation, and the labour pains of incipient labour organization. It will continue with the attempt by Latin Americans to redefine their nationality in terms of indigenous tradition, and indigenous philosophies, and in terms of Marxist analysis, socialist movements, and in terms of their response to US imperialism. The course will examine the long-term effort at import-substitution, industrialization, the problems encountered with that model, and the oil and debt crises of the 1980s onwards.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2204 FROM DEVELOPING TO “DEVELOPED”: (H 22D) NORTH AMERICA 1815 - 1980

(3 credits)

This course will examine the meaning and processes of “development”; to follow the social, political and economic evolutions in the emerging nation-states and to explore the relationship between the United States and Canada.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2302 THE STATE & DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA SINCE
(H 23D) 1900

(3 credits)

This course examines the notion of nationalism in order to provide the framework for discussing the following themes: African resistance to colonial political domination and economic exploitation before and after the Second World War; decolonization and independence; post-colonial African states and the contemporary problems of nation-building and economic development; the effectiveness of supra-national organisations - for example, the Organisation for African Unity and the Economic Commission for Africa - as agencies for achieving economic and political development in Africa.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2404 FASCISM & COMMUNISM IN 20th
(H 24D) CENTURY EUROPE

(3 credits)

The history of Europe since 1914, focussing on the process of ideological polarization resulting from the combined effects of world war, revolution in Russia and the economic depression. Themes studied: the impact of the First World War; the Bolshevik Revolution and the establishment of the USSR; Fascism and Nazism; the era of the Popular Fronts in the 1930s; the Second World War, the Cold War and the movements towards European integration.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2602 IMPERIALISM SINCE 1918
(H 26B)

(3 credits)

An analysis of the historical developments leading to the collapse of the colonial empires. Special focus will be placed on the colonial policies and practices of the imperial powers, and the positive impact of westernization and modernization. The forces contributing to the growth of nationalism throughout the colonial world and the process of decolonization and national liberation will also be examined in depth.

Prerequisite: None

HIST2701 TEXT AND TESTIMONY
(H 27A)

(3 credits)

A practical and theoretical study of historians' approaches to the "reading" of documentary and oral sources. This course is the follow-up to HIST1703 (H17C): Introduction to History.

Prerequisite: Pass in HIST1703 (H17C)

HIST2801 RESEARCH METHODS AND TECHNIQUES

(H 28A) IN ARCHAEOLOGY

(3 credits)

[Compulsory for all History/Archaeology Majors and Specials]

Detailed discussion and practicals in archaeological field techniques (location, surveying, mapping, surface and subsurface study of sites etc.). Also examined are site formation and transformation processes, archaeological sampling techniques, recording and record keeping, classification and research design and proposals as well as writing archaeological research reports. Students will be required to undertake small laboratory or field projects as well as participate in a minimum of 10 days field work.

Prerequisite: Pass in any Archaeology course

LEVEL III

Semester 1

HIST3014 HAITI IN THE 20TH CENTURY
(H 30N)

(3 credits)

Social, political and economic developments in Haiti from the American occupation to the end of the Duvalierist regime. Theories of the causes of Haitian poverty and political instability; major developments in Haiti are placed in Caribbean context.

Prerequisite: Pass in HIST2006 (H20F) or HIST2007 (H20G)

HIST3017 THE SPANISH CARIBBEAN 1810-1979: (H 30Q) NATIONALISM & UNDERDEVELOPMENT

(3 credits)

NOTE: May be taken as an American course.

An assessment of various definitions of nationalism; the relationship between nationalism and social control, nationalism and ethnicity, nationalism and anti-imperialism; nationalism as mirrored in the educational system, in historiography, and in the modification of nationalist ideas in face of varied external pressures. The Dominican Republic, Cuba and Puerto Rico will be discussed in light of the nationalist idea, and their patterns of development or underdevelopment examined in light of the occasional contradiction between nationalism as an ideology of

Prerequisite: None

HIST3305 CULTURE, RELIGION AND NATION-BUILDING
(H 33E) IN WEST AFRICA SINCE 1500

(3 credits)

This course approaches the study of religion and culture in West Africa from the viewpoint that transformations in African belief systems and ritual practices are indicative of the ways in which ordinary Africans have interpreted and produced several responses to momentous changes in West African life over the past five hundred years. The course is particularly concerned with the encounter between opposing systems of religious belief, namely African traditional religion, Islam and Christianity. The specific dynamics which permit the growth or decline of particular ritual practices are examined. The Africanisation of Islam and Christianity is a major concern. Through a focus on the cross-fertilisation of religious ideas, images and practices, the course examines both change and continuity in the religious and cultural experiences of West Africa.

Prerequisites: None

HIST3407 THE HOLOCAUST IN HISTORY
(H 34G) Can be taken as a substitute for HUMN3099 ( AR3X0)

(3 credits)

The scale, brutality and sheer industrial efficiency of the Jewish Holocaust were without precedent in history and it is this 'uniqueness' which renders it such a delicate and controversial topic for historical study. This course examines the centrality of racism to the ideology of Hitler's National Socialist regime, tracing the evolution of anti-semitic policies from 1933, the genesis of the "Final Solution" and its execution from 1941, the responses of the European population to it, and the historiographical debates which it has provoked.

Prerequisite: Pass in HIST2404 (H24D) or HIST2403 (H24C)

HIST3410 EARLY MODERN BRITAIN 1580-1660 ss
(H 34J) Can be taken as a substitute for HUMN3099

(AR3X0)

(3 credits)

The course will trace the different trajectories that social and economic changes followed in early modern Britain. In particular it will examine how society was reformed in the aftermath of the Black Death (and other epidemics), to the extent that at the beginning of the eighteenth century, British society was on the verge of achieving its "take-off" into the industrial Revolution. Among the concerns is social and political continuity and change in various local communities in Britain.

Prerequisite: Pass in HIST1408 (H14H) or HIST2403 (H24C)

HIST3501 MODERN JAPAN: MEIJI TO PRESENT
(H 35A)

(3 credits)

The course is designed to provide a critical understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of the major economic, political and social systems of Japan from Meiji to the present. Emphasis is placed on the patterns of modernization and industrialization and the continued relevance of "tradition" to the momentous changes during the Meiji rule. It assesses the development of Japan's postwar political system and its immense economic advances against a backcloth of social and cultural stability. The gradual changes in Japan's external relations from its earlier diffident approaches to foreign and defence policies to a formidable international trading competitor are examined.

Prerequisites: Passes in any FOUR Level II History courses

HIST3403 REVOLUTIONS IN FRANCE 1789-1871
(H 34C) Can be taken as a substitute for HUMN3099 (AR3X0)

(3 credits)

The Great French Revolution established the precedent of political change through revolution and instituted a seemingly endless cycle of revolution and reaction in the 19th Century France, without - perhaps paradoxically - achieving anything much in the way of social and economic reform. This course would examine the impact if the Great Revolution and the way in which it influenced the subsequent upheavals of 1830, 1848 and 1871.

Prerequisite: Pass in HIST2403 (H24C)

HIST3405 THE SPANISH REPUBLIC AND THE CIVIL WAR
(H 34E) Can be taken as a substitute for HUMN3099 (AR3X0)

(3 credits)

The Spanish Civil War has often been interpreted in simplistic terms as a 'dress rehearsal' for the Second World War, or as a conflict between Fascism and Communism. In reality, its roots lay in the accumulated frustrations resulting from centuries of misgovernment and economic decline. This course would examine how - against a background of World Economic Depression and the rise of European dictatorships - the multifarious problems associated with regionalism, lack of land reform, violent anti-clericalism and anarcho-syndicalism led within six years to a military 'pronunciamento' against the Republic and to the outbreak of Civil War.

HIST3408 ANGLO-AMERICAN SOCIETIES,
(H 34H) 1580-1660

(3 credits)

The course compares the cultural histories of the settlements that men and women from England went on to establish in Ireland and America with the social, intellectual and political developments in "old" England. What was the cultural baggage that these settlers brought with them and how the cultural attributes of these settlers helped to shape the societies that they constructed.

Prerequisite: Pass in HIST2403 (H24C) or HIST2404 (H24D)

HIST3502 HISTORY OF THE MIDDLE EAST 1915 - 1973
(H 35B)

LANGUAGE AND LINGUISTICS

LEVEL I

Semester 1 (Day & Evening)

LING1401 INTRODUCTION TO LANGUAGE AND (L 14A) LINGUISTICS
(3 credits)

This introductory course will have students examine questions such as “what is language?” and “what is human communication?” A glimpse into sentence structure from the linguists’ viewpoint will give a new perspective on ideas learnt in school about grammar. A study of the relationships between language and society will open students’ eyes to variation in language. The identification of areas of the brain controlling various functions of speech will provide an explanation of some the ways in which individuals can suffer language deficiencies.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2 (Day & Evening)

LING1001 INTRODUCTION TO PHONETICS AND PHONOLOGY
(L 10A) (3 credits)

The first section of this course introduces Phonetics: the study of how the various organs of speech (tongue, lips, vocal chords, etc.), are used to produce sounds. It also familiarises students with the use of the symbols of the International Phonetic Alphabet to represent the sounds of language. The second section of this course introduces Phonology: the study of the ways in which sounds are grouped together into categories called phonemes. Students learn to identify phonemes in particular languages, and also discover how phonemes are combined in sequences to produce syllables and words.

Prerequisite: LING1401 (L14A)

LING1002 INTRODUCTION TO MORPHOLOGY AND SYNTAX
(L 10B)

(3 credits)

The first section of this course introduces Morphology: the study of morphemes, the smallest units which have meaning in language. Students learn how morphemes are combined through processes such as inflection, compounding and reduplication to form words. The second section of this course introduces Syntax: the study of the rules by which words are combined to form phrases and ultimately sentences. Students learn to apply tests such as replacement and movement, in order to determine the structure of sentences.

Prerequisite: LING1401 (L14A)

LING 1402 INTRODUCTION TO LANGUAGE STRUCTURE
(L 14B)

(3 credits)

This course provides an introduction to the science of language structure and will help students see that variation in human language is limited, despite differences between languages. It considers how the organs of speech (tongue, lips, vocal chords) are used to produce sounds and how individual languages use sounds to differentiate words. Students also learn how words can be separated into smaller parts called morphemes (stems, affixes, etc) and how morphemes are combined through processes of inflection, compounding, reduplication etc. to form words. Finally, the course introduces the rules by which words are combined in languages to produce phrases and sentences.

Prerequisite: LING1401 (L14A)

LEVEL II

Semester 1

LANG2001 LANGUAGE AND ETHICS
(LG20A)

(3 credits)

Ethical issues are inherent in writing and speaking, which can influence others either positively or negatively. This course introduces students to the ethical considerations which affect language use. It provides a definition of ethics and an overview of theories of ethics, including personal and public ethics and issues of ownership such as plagiarism and copyright, as these relate to writing and research. Ethical and unethical arguments are also examined and restructured. Ethical considerations in the language of national and international politics and communication across cultures are also addressed.

Prerequisites: FOUN1299 (UC120)/ FOUN1001 (FD10A)/ FOUN1401 (FD14A)/ FOUN1001 (UC10B) or equivalent with B or above

LING2001 PHONOLOGY
(L 20A) (3 credits)

This course, building on the basic concepts introduced in LING1001 (L10A) focuses on theories which seek to account for the phonological systems of human language. It explores the phonological structures of languages, using a Generative approach to analysis. It also examines the phonological processes that are found in languages, such as those which produce differences between careful and casual speech.

Prerequisite: LING1001 (L10A)

LING2002 SYNTAX
(L 20B) (3 credits)

This course uses a Generative Grammar framework to take you through many of the fundamental concepts in syntax. These pertain to the principles which underlie syntactic structure and the models which explain structural relations. Concepts such as constituency, phrase structure rules, X-bar theory, binding and theta theory will be explored. You will build on the basic concepts introduced in LING1002 (L10B), and see more clearly how it is possible to develop general principles applicable to any language in the analysis of its structure aware of and be able to appreciate the cultural differences that exist. This course explores the cultural experiences and perspectives among persons who are Deaf. In addition, the course provides an overview of issues related to members of the Deaf community.

Prerequisites: LING1402 (L14B) or LING1002 (L10B)

Prerequisite: None

LING2301 THE SOCIOLOGY OF LANGUAGE
(L 23A) (3 credits)

This course covers the full range of types of language situations, for example, bilingual, multilingual, diglossic, Creole continuum, etc. It also looks at the range of functions that particular languages can perform in a speech community, for example, official, standard, private, public, etc. It examines, as well, surveys of language attitudes. The entire course is supported by references to case studies from language situations around the world.

Prerequisite: Any first year Linguistics course.

LING2402 STRUCTURE OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE
(L 24B) (3 credits)

This course uses basic grammatical concepts and terminology to look at different approaches to understanding the structure of English, namely, traditional versus structuralist versus transformational/generative. It investigates concepts of standardness and correctness, and aims at giving students a solid understanding of English sentence structure.

Prerequisite: LING1402 (L14B) or LING1002 (L10B)

LING2501 LANGUAGE, GENDER AND SEX
(L 25A) (3 credits)

The course focuses on the relationship between sex as a biological category, gender as a social phenomenon and language, as it investigates the application, to the Caribbean, of some of the theoretical frameworks through which this relationship has been studied. Also discussed are the ways in which children in various cultures acquire gendered language. The course examines linguistic gender in a number of unrelated languages, including Caribbean Creoles, and issues relating to sexism in language. Actual conversations on radio are recorded and transcribed for analysis. This course has a strong Caribbean focus.

Prerequisite: Any Level I Linguistics course

LING2810 INTRODUCTION TO THE STRUCTURE AND (L 28J) USAGE OF JAMAICAN CREOLE
(3 credits)

This course exposes students to a living Caribbean language. It gives insight to the linguistic structure and usage of Jamaican Creole, helping students to see it as a language in its own right. Orthography, literature and lexicon are some of the areas that are covered. Distinctions between English and Jamaican Creole will also be highlighted.

Prerequisite: None

LING2819 STRUCTURE AND USAGE OF CARIBBEAN SIGN
(L 28S) LANGUAGE 1

Every Caribbean territory has a Deaf community, which has a vernacular language. These languages represent important linguistic minorities in the Caribbean. However, their structures have never been formally taught. As a result, there is a strong demand amongst educators of the deaf for more information on these sign languages as linguistic systems. This course is aimed at exposing students to the structure of a Caribbean Sign Language as a linguistic system and will introduce them to communication in a visual-gestural mode. As an exemplification of this mode, students will be given instruction and practice sentences in a Caribbean sign language to develop basic communicative skills in that language and to gain exposure to the local Deaf culture.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

LING2302 SOCIOLINGUISTICS
(L 23B) (3 credits)

The course defines sociolinguistics then focuses on developing in students an objective understanding of the links which speakers make between language and social groupings. The course is fundamentally an exploration of the ways language can be studied as a social phenomenon. The course will cover, for example, the connection between specific language features in speech communities, such as the pronunciation of 'r', and the social background of the speaker who uses the feature. Other topics to be discussed include: sociological and social psychological explanations for language use, language change, gender and language use, language ideology. The course will also deal with communicative competence, notably the cultural rules governing language interaction. This course has a strong Caribbean focus.

Prerequisites: LING1401 (L14A) and LING1402 (L14B) or LING1001 (L10A) or LING1002 (L10B)

LING2602 (L 26B) CARIBBEAN LANGUAGE: SOCIO-HISTORICAL BACKGROUND (3 credits)

A historical journey through the region, from the precolombian period through the colonial era and the postcolonial Caribbean, this course makes the connection between migration to and within the region and the various languages and language influences within the region: those of the indigenous peoples as well as people from Europe, Africa and Asia. The path that has led to the present Caribbean linguistic diversity but also to the loss of languages once present in the region is traced using insights from language contact studies.

Prerequisite: Any Level I Linguistics course or HIST1703 (H 17C)

LING2701 (L 27A) APPLIED SPEECH PRODUCTION (3 credits)

This course investigates the language geography of the Caribbean in terms of speech forms and accents. It looks at speech production inclusive of elocution and accent production.

Prerequisite: LING1001 (L 10A)

LING2811 LEGAL TERMINOLOGY IN JAMAICAN
(L 28K) CREOLE
(3 credits)

The background to any preparation of Jamaican Language interpreters for the legal system requires familiarity with the appropriate technical language terminology in Jamaican creole. It is this need which the course seeks to fulfil.

Prerequisite: LING2810 (L 28J) Minimum Grade B

LING2920 STRUCTURE AND USAGE OF CARIBBEAN
(L 28T) SIGN LANGUAGE II
(3 credits)

This course is aimed at enhancing the receptive and expressive sign language skills of students. It will also introduce them to more advanced aspects of the cherology, morphology and syntax, particularly nonmanual behaviours and classifiers of a Caribbean sign language. The students will learn how to express abstract concepts in the sign language.

Prerequisite: LING2819 (L 28S)

LING COMPUTATIONAL LINGUISTICS
(L 29A) (3 credits)

This is an exciting course that answers the question, what is computational linguistics, and explores the objectives of and reasons for research in the area. It introduces students to the difficulties and limitations of a computational approach to linguistic problems. It also addresses computational procedures and programming languages, from the perspective of the linguist. The highpoint of the course is the application of computational techniques to a problem in linguistics.

Co requisites: LING2001 (L 20A) and LING2002 (L 20B)

LING2920 INTRODUCTION TO THE THEORY AND (L 29T) PRACTICE OF TRANSLATION

(3 credits)

This course presents the fundamental theories of translation as outlined by the various schools of thought on the subject. In seeking to broaden the knowledge base of the student of linguistics and foreign languages, it highlights that translation is far more than simply changing words in one language to words in another language. Students need to be aware of this in order to effectively produce a new text which contains the meanings contained in the original text.

Prerequisites: None

Year Long

LING2899 FRENCH-LEXICON CREOLE
(L 280) (3 credits)

This course is designed both as a foreign language course and as one in the structure of the language. Students will be trained in oral and written expression and comprehension, as well as receiving instruction in the structure of the language. Students will be exposed to a wide range of French-lexicon Creole texts both written and oral, including the lyrics of popular music. Problems of orthography, standardisation and instrumentalism will be discussed, and a deliberate effort made to provide students with exposure to the major dialects of French-lexicon Creole spoken in the Caribbean.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL III

Semester 1

LING3201 CARIBBEAN DIALECTOLOGY
(L 32A) (3 credits)

This course takes an in-depth look at the socio-historical background of Caribbean languages and dialects: indigenous languages of the Caribbean, the languages which were brought into the region under colonialism (European, African, and Asian languages) and languages which arose in the plantations and maroon societies (Creole languages). It further considers the extent of our knowledge of the grammars of these languages, in particular of aspects which are specific to the Caribbean.

Prerequisites: LING1401 (L14A) and LING1402 (L14B) or LING1001 (L10A) and LING1002 (L10B) and any TWO of LING2001 (L20A), LING2002 (L20B), LING2301 (L23A), LING2302 (L23B)

LING3304 THE LANGUAGE OF NEGOTIATION
(L 33D) (3 credits)

This course, a compulsory course for the major in Language Communication and Society, is one which focuses on the practical aspects of language use in negotiation. It examines the communication processes involved in negotiation and covers both the basic principles and the practice of negotiation. It analyses language use in negotiation through role play and simulation and uses these to examine models and methods of negotiation; persuasive strategies; negotiator characteristics and styles; power and gender issues and social and cultural issues in negotiation

Prerequisite: LING2302 (L23B)

Semester 2

LING3001 ADVANCED PHONOLOGY
(L 30A) (3 credits)

This course is aimed at Linguistics majors and other students interested in coming to grips with the theoretical details of the inner workings of the phonological systems of human languages. It covers their representation of segments and autosegments, phonological rule types, the representation of the syllable, metrical phonology, the interaction of phonology with morphology and syntax and markedness issues.

Prerequisite: LING2001 (L20A)

LING3002 ADVANCED SYNTAX

(3 credits)

This course is primarily for Linguistics majors, and progresses seamlessly from work covered in L20B. Using a Transformational Generative model, you will learn how it is that syntactic theory accounts for the generation of certain utterances which X-bar theory is not able to generate. Specifically, you are introduced to a number of transformations, including head-to-head movement & phrasal movement, and crucially, to the restrictions on that movement. This is presented as a fairly complete and simple system, laying the theoretical foundation for further explorations.

Prerequisite: LING2002 (L20B)

LING3202 CREOLE LINGUISTICS
(L 32B)

(3 credits)

This course begins by dealing with the validity of the term 'creole' and by looking at the world-wide distribution of creole languages. It aims to familiarize students with the history of the field of Creole Studies beginning in the 19th century and with the debates on creole typology and creole genesis that have dominated the field, and to engage them in a critical evaluation of the positions held by different sides in these debates. It goes on to look at decreolisation in the context of theories of language change and language acquisition.

Prerequisites: L14A (LING1401) and L14B (LING1402) or LING1001 (L10A) and LING1002 (L10B) and any TWO of LING2001 (L20A), LING2002 (L20B), LING2301 (L23A), LING2302 (L23B)

LING3303 DISCOURSE ANALYSIS
(L 33C)

(3 credits)

This course, one of the compulsory courses for the major in Language Communication and Society, introduces students to Discourse Analysis with a focus on conflict talk, both around the world and in Jamaican and Caribbean contexts. It explores theoretical approaches to the analysis of spoken discourse, with reference to the inferential, interactional and code approaches, which students are required to apply to the analysis of their real – life recorded data. It also examines conversational strategies in negotiating conflict. A key aspect of the course involves students collecting, transcribing and encoding spoken discourse.

Prerequisites: LING2301 (L23A) and LING2302 (L23B) or LING3304 (L33D)

LING3909 THE PROFESSION OF INTERPRETING (L 39I)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the field of interpreting and to the role of an interpreter. It defines the communication process, client(s) and situational assessments. The profession of an interpreter, interpreter role and ethics, the process of interpreting, settings and assignments are also examined.

Prerequisite: None

Year Long Course

LING3399 LANGUAGE PLANNING
(L 331) This course may be taken as an alternative to HUMN3099 (AR3X0).
(6 credits)

This course analyses the link between language and national identity, and also deals with the role of language in official communication networks. Against this background, it analyses the various kinds of efforts made to plan language and looks at language planning in Caribbean Creole speech communities and current developments in language policy in these societies.

Prerequisites: LING1401 (L14A) and LING1402 (L14B) or LING1001 (L10A) and LING1002 (L10B) and LING2301 (L23A) and LING2302 (L23B)

SUMMER SCHOOL

LING2807 INTRODUCTION TO GARIFUNA (L 28G)

(3 credits)

This is another in a series of courses offering students exposure to a living Caribbean language. This is an introduction to one of the few Arawakan languages still spoken in the Caribbean, Garifuna is spoken by the Garinagu or “Black Caribs” of Belize. The course gives students the ability to engage in conversational use of the language while exposing them to the structure of the language, including its similarities to other Arawakan languages. This takes place in a context where the student learns to appreciate the sociocultural norms associated with an indigenous Caribbean language.

Prerequisite: None

LING3701 FIELD METHODS IN LINGUISTICS (L37A)

(3 credits)

This semester long course introduces the student to basic research methods in linguistics. Equipped with this knowledge, students are required to design their own programme of field research and sent into the field, under supervision, to collect language data from informants. They are required to transcribe portions of this data and provide some preliminary analysis.

Prerequisites: LING2001 (L20A), LING2002 (L20B), LING2302 (L23B)

PHILOSOPHY

The discipline of philosophy provides an opportunity for the study of, and reflection on, issues of ultimate and general nature, which have exercised the minds of humanity throughout the ages. These issues relate to questions of ultimate meaning and human values which instill in human mind a sense of wonder leading to inquiry and perennial investigation of same, as they bear significance in their relation to the human condition and the nature of being in general. In philosophy at the University of the West Indies, Mona, the emphasis is placed on the development and recognition of precise and careful argumentation, while the goal is the cultivation and nurturing of a critical, analytical and cultured mental disposition and attitude to life, the environment, nature, other forms of life and fellow human beings. To attain these objectives, effort is made to pay attention to the central elements of philosophy, such as logic, metaphysics, epistemology and methodology, values and valuation, and the various applications of philosophy to specialized disciplines such as science, religion, politics, psychology, technology, engineering, peace and war, and the cyberspace. There is also deliberate effort made to explore traditions that are immediately relevant to the region - that is, African and Caribbean philosophical traditions alongside the Western and Oriental ones.

The preparation that the Philosophy BA Degree Programme provides is that of an intellectually well-rounded person, who can go into any profession with the confidence of a cultured mind and who can operate at any level, favourably out-performing people with narrower intellectual backgrounds. In this regard, graduates of philosophy are equipped to be civil servants, teachers, business managers, bankers, lawyers, public relations practitioners, insurance experts, etc. if they choose to specialize in these professions.

LEVEL I

Semester I and III (Summer)

PHIL1002 ETHICS AND APPLIED ETHICS
(PH10B)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the theories of the nature and justification of ethical concepts and the decision procedures. Issues include the relation between motivation and moral justification. Is morality objective, relative or absolute? Is moral knowledge possible? What is the relation between morality and legality? What is the relation between morality and religion? What is the relation between morality and education? What is the relation between morality and sociology? What is the relation between morality and politics? Ethical anthropology. Law and conscience. The course also critically outlines some of the major theories of moral goodness and right action and their relationship with duty. Issue in applied ethics are explored, in a view to introduce students to burning contemporary moral issues.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL1003 INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY (PH10C)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students with no prior knowledge of philosophy to the perennial issues in philosophy which arise out of the search for truth and meaning in life: good and evil, appearance and reality, the rational grounds for belief in God, scepticism and knowledge, social justice. We attempt to examine also basic issues of human existence such as conceptions of human nature, meaning of life, freedom, death and afterlife. The course emphasizes critical thinking and the value of understanding through the use of reasoning and reasoned argumentation.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 1

PHIL THE MEANING OF LIFE AND EXISTENCE
(PH10F)

(3 credits)

The course will be devoted to reflection on the following issues:

1. Human Nature, Morality and Society: Critical and Philosophical reflection on varieties of conceptions of human nature, the good life, the rational foundation for morality, the relation of individual to state; authority, liberty and justice.
2. Life, death and existence: Careful discussion of questions

- concerning the meaning of life and death, examination of concepts and ideas of human existence historically and analytically from various traditions.
3. Purpose of life and conditions for its fulfilment: The raising and exploration of answers to such questions as: What is the best sort of life? Is there one type of life that is best for everyone? Is democracy the best arrangement for state management? Are humans ever truly free?
 4. Political, social and other arrangements conducive to good life: An examination of questions about the political and social arrangements of our lives, and questions about blame and responsibility that require us to think about the meaning of human freedom. We explore freedom and responsibility, to enable students to be able to ask questions about the possibility of knowledge, the rationality of religious belief, and the nature of the self. Our discussion includes non-Western and feminist philosophical perspectives.
 5. Language, symbolism and mythologies and life: An exploration of the place of language, symbolisms and mythologies in human existence with the hope of generating critical philosophical reflection on the part of students on the various dimensions of relationships – staff/student, lecturer/student, seller/buyer, client/provider, parent/child, husband/wife, etc and we undertake an examination of the role of norms, rules, laws, respect, love, affection, hatred, greed, creativity, destruction and force in human existence. They should be able to answer such questions as: Why be moral? And whose interest is being served by my being moral? Why continue to live? Etcetera.

PHIL1001 INTRODUCTION TO LOGIC
(PH10A)

(3 credits)

An introduction to essential principles of reasoning and critical thinking designed to introduce students to the analysis of concepts, to enhance their ability to evaluate various forms of reasoning and to examine critically beliefs, conventions and theories, and to develop sound arguments - good arguments, fair argumentation, validity. Topics to include fundamentals of logic and analysis, definition, uses of language, conceptual analysis, logical fallacies, deduction and induction, analytic and synthetic propositions, scientific method and explanation, distinctions.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL II

Semester 1

PHIL2001 PARADOX AND ANALYSIS (PH20A)

(3 credits)

This is entirely a problem-oriented course. We will consider a series of paradoxes, some of which are interrelated, some of which originate in the last couple of decades and some of which are of longer history - dating back to the Pre-Socratics. This approach will not only allow us to study a wide range of issues in such areas as Philosophy of Mind, Epistemology and Ethics, but more importantly, it will lead to an understanding of different contemporary analytic techniques for tackling philosophical problems which challenge our attempts to understand the world.

Prerequisite: One Level I Philosophy Course

PHIL2003 PHILOSOPHY OF MIND (PH20C)

(3 credits)

An examination of major philosophic theories of the human mind. The traditional dualistic theory that the mind and body are distinctly different will be contrasted with contemporary logical behaviourism and with the modern materialist's theory that the mental can be explained in terms of brain states and brain functions. How are thoughts and sensations related to neurological processes? Could mental states be identical to brain states? What is animal intelligence? Is artificial intelligence? What is the place of holography in the understanding of mind?

Prerequisite: None

PHIL2004 PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE (PH20D)

(3 credits)

An introduction to the nature, extent and significance of scientific knowledge. Problems about the nature of scientific theories and models, scientific explanation and prediction, scientific growth, and issues about the relationship between science, religion and morality will be discussed. Various versions of realism in philosophy of science will be discussed. The nature of truth in science and justification in science will be discussed. Is science a metaphysics? How the world is - what does this mean? Is science a product of interest or is science universal? "Open and Closed" predicaments and the Intellectualist Thesis will be discussed. What is scientism? Other issues to be explored include nuclear omnicide, holography, fanaticism, Fascism, procreation choices, religiosity, skepticism, space studies, identity issues, post-modernism, post-structuralism, etc.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL2005 PHILOSOPHY OF LANGUAGE (PH20E)

(3 credits)

This course provides the forum for the exploration of the issues at the borders of language, logic, communication, intention, representation, predication and understanding. It explores the intersection that these create for reality in our determination of reality, meaning, science, universals, particulars and truth. What is the relation between thought and language? What is the relation between language and the world? What is linguistic meaning and how does it differ from other kinds of meaning? Does linguistic meaning determine other types of meaning? Why does language matter in philosophy and in intellectual discourse? How does language colour our perception, understanding and representation of reality? Why does one speak one language and not another? Why is understanding of another language never total? What is Indeterminacy Thesis? How does it affect translation and transliteration? These issues will be discussed in the light of the ideas of Frege, Russell, Quine, Grice, Davidson, Chomsky, Wittgenstein, Moore, Sodiipo, Hallen and Wiredu.

Prerequisite: Any Level I Philosophy Course

PHIL2601 AFRICAN PHILOSOPHY I (PH26A)

(3 credits)

This course explores in-depth the African foundation of Greek philosophy. It explores the nature of philosophical thought in pre-classical and classical worlds as found in Asia Minor and Africa. It discusses issues in such areas of philosophy as epistemology, metaphysics, axiology, logic, political philosophy and philosophies of religion from traditional and contemporary African philosophical perspectives. Critical attention will be paid to issues of analysis in philosophy and other forms of philosophical methods.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL2701 PHILOSOPHY IN LITERATURE
(PH27A)

(3 credits)

Works of literature are sometimes representations of philosophical problems as lived experience and as such provide opportunities for the discussion of philosophy and life. This course is an examination of a number of central philosophical issues as they are reflected in literary works. Among the issues to be examined are the following: the question of God and the problem of evil; determinism, free will and fatalism; freedom and man's search for identity; the meaning of life; and the obligation to obey the law.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

PHIL2002 THEORY OF KNOWLEDGE
(PH20B)

(3 credits)

This course is problem-oriented, and critically examines contemporary answers to questions which include: "What is knowledge?", "What are the limitations of knowledge?", "What is belief?". The course also examines the status and extent of our knowledge of the world, of ourselves, and other people. Problems about the nature of knowledge, the justification of claims of knowledge, the relationship of knowledge to belief and truth, perception, and the viability of scepticism will be discussed.

Prerequisite: One Level I Philosophy Course

PHIL2006 METAPHYSICS
(PH20F)

(3 credits)

This course examines critically the definition, nature, subject matter of metaphysics and truth in metaphysics. It surveys the principal types of theories of reality that have been produced in western philosophy, eg. materialism, idealism, dualism, monism, atomism, and investigates major problems and concepts in metaphysics, eg. time, space, substance, essence, free will and determinism causality, the nature of the self and the problem of universals . Discusses also the ancient and modern views on the material constitution of bodies, organisms, and persons, distinction between properties and substances, artefacts and natural things, and the mind-body problems.

Prerequisite: Any Level I Philosophy Course

PHIL2602 AFRICAN PHILOSOPHY II
(PH26B)

(3 credits)

This course explores the following philosophical and meta-philosophical issues that have pervaded contemporary African philosophical terrain. These are: the ontological question in African philosophy and tradition of thinking, peculiarities of philosophy in "oral" societies, the relation between myth, legend, history and religion in philosophy, the natural order of things, phases of discourse. Bantu philosophy and Intellectualist Thesis.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL2702 INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY OF ART
(PH27B)

(3 credits)

Civilizations document their existence in three broad ways: their deeds, their works and their art. Is their art the most trust-worthy account of their achievements? Why is art important to civilizations? What importance has art to life to warrant the expenditure of so much energy in production and appreciation? What creates artistic intelligibility? Why is intelligibility not universal? This course is devoted to an examination of the philosophical issues in art. Questions to be addressed include the following: What is art? Is aesthetic experience different from other kinds of experience? How do we know that a work of art is good? Should art be judged on moral grounds? What is the value of art? The runway - models, fashion shows, pageants, designs. The course aims at deepening the understanding of the arts and increasing appreciation of the role they play in society.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL MODERN PHILOSOPHY
(PH29B)

(3 credits)

Contemporary philosophy is very much indebted to what are referred to as the moderns namely several 17th and 18th century philosophers. Although the moderns were not isolated thinkers and their works were everywhere influenced by the thoughts of their predecessors and contemporaries, it is not extravagant to credit them with initiating modern philosophy. This course is aimed to study in part one what has become known as the school of rationalism in which three philosophers stand out: namely, Descartes, Spinoza and Leibniz. The course covers a selection of subjects from their works with an emphasis on their metaphysical and epistemological aspects. In the second part of the course, we will study the school of empiricism, and Kant's philosophy as a reaction to both rationalism and empiricism. Among the empiricists the works of three figures loom large: Locke, Berkeley and Hume. Again the course is concerned mainly with epistemological and metaphysical aspects of empiricist and Kantian philosophy.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL III

Semester I

PHIL3012 PHILOSOPHY OF LAW (PH30L)

(3 credits)

This course provides a systematic consideration of the fundamental issues in the conception and practice of law, origin of law, laws, commands and orders, sovereignty and subject, legitimacy and autonomy, laws, ethics and justice, democracy and the law, gender and the law, discrimination and reverse discrimination, war and laws, sanctity of life and law - suicide, capital punishment, cloning, organ transplantation, etc., conscience and the law. It provides a forum for the discussion of such perennial themes in legal theory as the nature and function of law, the relation of law to morality, the function of rules in legal reasoning, and the connection between law and social policy. We look at philosophical issues in crime, civil rights, punishment, and the legislation of morality. International laws - perspectives and problems.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL3601 RECENT PHILOSOPHY I (PH36A)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the various philosophical theories, themes and perspectives of the 20th Century. These are existentialism, phenomenology, Marxism, utilitarianism, analytic philosophy, pragmatism, nihilism, pacifism, intuitionism, linguistic philosophy, positivism and phenomenism. The course will attempt to underscore the multifaceted nature of the philosophical perspectives of the twentieth century.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

PHIL AMERICAN PHILOSOPHY
(PH30F)

(3 credits)

The course will be devoted to reflections on the following issues:

1. The beginning and origins of American philosophy within the context of Puritanism
2. American intellectual attempts to deal with revolution
3. American intellectual attempts to deal with slavery
4. Transcendentalism in American philosophy
5. Pragmatism as American contribution to philosophy
6. African-American contributions to philosophy
7. The American way – opportunity, progress and individualism

Prerequisite: None

PHIL PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION
(PH30R)

(3 credits)

The purpose of this course is to enable students to critically examine about human ability to explore, understand and effectively communicate knowledge of the supernatural domain. Thus we explore efforts to explain the existence of God and God's relationship to the world. What, if anything, do the efforts prove? Could they be valid? What justification, if any, can or needs to be provided for them? The course is concerned primarily with the claims of many world religions (Christianity, Judaism and Islam), and with the central claim of those religions, that there is a God. God is said to be omnipresent, omnipotent, omniscient, perfectly good, a source of moral obligation and so on. But what does it mean to say that God has these properties, and are they consistent with each other? Could God change the past, or choose to do evil? Does it make sense to say that God is outside time? Students will have the opportunity to study arguments for the existence of God - for example, the teleological argument from the fact that the Universe is governed by scientific laws, and the argument from people's religious experiences. Other issues are whether the fact of pain and suffering counts strongly, or even conclusively, against the existence of God, whether there could be evidence for miracles, whether it could be shown that prayer

"works", whether there could be life after death, and what philosophical problems are raised by the existence of different religions. Does it make sense to say that the life and death of Jesus atoned for the sins of the world, and could one know this? Is determinism a meaningful article of faith? What about life after death? Is there any possibility of a judgment day? Among the major philosophers whose contributions to the philosophy of religion you will need to study are Aquinas, Hume, Nietzsche, Camus, Sartre, Kierkegaard and Kant. We discuss ideas of God from other non-Western traditions. Does the Western tradition constrict the existence of God? What is the purpose of war in religion? Whose wars are these? Why does God need Satan? How do other traditions deal with binary of opposites? Students will be allowed to freely reflect on religion as an institution, as theology and as relationship.

Prerequisite: None

PHIL3602 RECENT PHILOSOPHY II
(PH36B)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the major issues which have arisen within contemporary philosophical debate toward the closing decades of the 20th Century. The course will present a survey of the major debates and attendant movements such as rationality, objectivity, universalism, ecosophy, racism, racialism, multiculturalism, liberalism, ethnicity, ethnocentrism, feminism, gender philosophy, and patriarchalism. The contributions of contemporary philosophical traditions of non-Western cultures to the formulation of issues and debates in recent philosophy will be seriously discussed.

Prerequisite: PHIL3601 (PH36A) or one level I Philosophy course
Year Long

PHIL3099 RESEARCH IN PHILOSOPHY
(PH300)

(3 credits)

This course provides

1. Introduction to research in Philosophy

2. Reading Classical and Non-classical works in Philosophy
3. Understanding the background to the works of each author
4. Detailed reading of the works of a major philosopher, such as Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Hume, Russell, Kant, Marx, Husserl, Heidegger, Sartre, Merleau-Ponty, Ricoeur, Gadamer, Wittgenstein, Whitehead, McTaggart, Ryle, Austine, Ayer, Quine, Davidson, Nagel, Strawson, Dummett, Putnam, Kripke, Rorty, Augustine, Amo, Bodunrin, Sodipo, Du Bois, Garvey, Oruka, Hountondji, C.L.R. James, Woredu, Van Serfima, Diop, Mazrui, etc.
5. Writing an Essay under supervision of the Lecturer for the Course as the culmination of the work in the research course.

Prerequisite: PHIL1001 (PH10A), PHIL1003 (PH10C), PHIL2003 (PH20C), PHIL2002 (PH20B) and PHIL2006 (PH20F)

THE DEGREE IN LIBERAL STUDIES

Many students matriculate into the University with little certainty of what they wish to study or even what discipline they would wish to major in. There are also students who enter with multiple interests that are not easily by a single or even double major. Increasingly employers are also interested in generalists who have achieved a good honours degree, regardless of discipline, since they come to the workplace with a broad knowledge base as well as strong analytical and social skills. The degree in Liberal Studies is therefore intended to satisfy a variety of needs of both students and potential employers.

The Liberal Studies Degree comprises a minimum of 90 credits distributed as follows:

- a) 24 credits in each of at least two (2) Faculty of Humanities and Education disciplines, AND
- b) 24 credits in any other discipline as specified by the

- three (3) disciplines Faculty concerned; OR 24 credits in each of Faculty of Humanities and Education
- c) 12 credits in Foundation courses as specified in 6 I (i) above;
- d) Up to 6 credits in electives.

No more than nine (9) of the 24 credits in each discipline can be taken at level I towards the degree and at least six (6) credits in each discipline must be done at level III.

SELECTION OF COURSES FROM THE FHE TOWARD THE DEGREE IN LIBERAL STUDIES MUST ONLY BE MADE FROM THOSE COURSES MARKED WITH AN ASTERISK (*) IN THE VARIOUS DISCIPLINES OF THE FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION OR FROM THOSE COURSES OTHERWISE DESIGNATED BY THE DEPARTMENT CONCERNED.

Major in LIBRARY AND INFORMATION STUDIES

Admission to this programme may be subject to interview by the Head of Department. The programme consists of two components:

- (1) Satisfactory completion of the regulation ninety (90) credits. Most Library and Information Studies courses are assigned three (3) credits. Students must complete at least forty-five (45) credits in Library and Information Studies.
- (2) Twelve (12) weeks approved field work in designated libraries/information centres, ideally undertaken in the two summer vacations during the programme.

The award of the degree will be made only after satisfactory completion of the field-work. The Department reserves the right to waive the field-work or part thereof under special circumstances.

LIBRARY AND INFORMATION STUDIES

LEVEL I

Semester 1

LIBS1001 INFORMATION AND SOCIETY

(LS10A)(3 credits)

This course is designed to provide an understanding of information as a social phenomenon, the historical foundation of its organization, the theoretical bases of its manifestation and use. It also covers the role of agencies, industries and services that create, process, store and distribute information and the individuals and organizations that use information.

Prerequisite: None

LIBS1201 MANAGEMENT OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS I
(LS12A)*(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the basic principles which must be used in the management of information units.

Prerequisite: None

LIBS1501 COMPUTER LITERACY FOR INFORMATION SPECIALISTS
(LS15A)*(3 credits)

This course provides an introduction to the basic concepts and techniques of operating computer systems. It allows a student to create a foundation upon which to build the study of automation in the information environment. Hardware and software management, data representation and processing as well as the basics of telecommunications are included. Because what is involved is a human service delivery system, special attention is paid to the impact of computers on society.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2LIBS1002 INFORMATION ORGANIZATION AND DISSEMINATION
(LS10B)*(3 credits)

This course is designed to provide an understanding of the theories and practices concerned with mobilizing and disseminating information, the systems that support this work and the role and function of the information specialist. Included are an introduction to the basic techniques and procedures in place to provide for the utilization of information.

Prerequisite: A Pass in LIBS1001 (LS10A)

LIBS1202 MANAGEMENT OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS II
(LS12B)
(3 credits)

This course is designed to provide practical application of management principles to information units. Special attention will be given to specific management problems in the context of the socio-historical background of the Caribbean area.

Prerequisite: A Pass in LIBS1201 (LS12A)

LIBS1501 COMPUTER LITERACY FOR (LS15A) INFORMATION SPECIALISTS
(3 credits)

This course provides an introduction to the basic concepts and techniques of operating computer systems. It allows a student to create a foundation upon which to build the study of automation in the information environment. Hardware and software management, data representation and processing as well as the basics of telecommunications are included. Because what is involved is a human service delivery system, special attention is paid to the impact of computers on society.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL II

Year Long Course

LIBS2199 CATALOGUING AND CLASSIFICATION
(LS210)
(6 credits)

The emphasis in this course is on practical work and the practical implications of cataloguing and classification. This includes the detailed study of the Dewey Decimal Classification Scheme, the study and application of Cataloguing rules, the design and compilation of catalogues, critical appreciation and use of tools, aids and support services in the field. A significant amount of theory is necessary to cover this material.

Prerequisites: Passes in LIBS1001 (LS10A) and LIBS1002 (LS10B)

Semester 1

LIBS2201 INFORMATION RESOURCES, THEIR (LS22A) COMMUNICATION AND CONSERVATION

(3 credits)

The basic concepts of the reference process which include interviewing techniques and search strategy are covered. The communication of information and the use of reference tools within the context of information transfer are examined. Conservation of, and awareness of the physical material of printed and other information resources are briefly investigated.

Prerequisites: Passes in LIBS1001 (LS10A) and LIBS1002 (LS10B)

LIBS2701 AUDIOVISUAL INFORMATION WORK I (LS27A)

(3 credits)

This course is designed to familiarise students with the trends in which increasing provision and use is being made of audiovisual materials in addition to print. It enables them to appreciate the growing significance of the role of audiovisual materials in the recording, organization and exploitation of ideas and information. The course deals with the special characteristics of documents recorded on photographic film, magnetic tape, optical discs and other materials, paying special attention to the evaluation, administration, bibliographic control, acquisition and usage of these materials.

Prerequisites: LIBS1001 (LS10A) and LIBS1002 (LS10B)

Semester 2

LIBS2103 ORGANIZING INFORMATION IN SCHOOL (LS21C) LIBRARIES

(3 credits)

This course is designed to help prospective school library media specialists understand the principles and practice of cataloguing and classification. Major emphasis will be on the study and application of the Dewey Decimal Classification Scheme, cataloguing rules and subject heading lists; compilation and construction of catalogues and the use of tools, aids and services in the field.

Prerequisite: None

LIBS2301 RESEARCH METHODOLOGY FOR INFORMATION SPECIALISTS

(LS23A)

(3 credits)

This course is intended to provide the student with knowledge of the theories, tools and techniques of research methodology, its terminology and processes. Also included are the concept of evaluation of research results and dissemination techniques including repackaging of information. Special emphasis will be placed on the application of research methodology to information work.

Prerequisites: Passes in LIBS1001 (LS10A) and LIBS1002 (LS10B)

LIBS2501 AUTOMATION IN INFORMATION WORK I

(LS25A)

(3 credits)

This course provides a comprehensive study of the automation of library processes. Principles and techniques of information storage and retrieval are examined. The automation of technical support systems, the application of computers in user services and in management are dealt with in detail.

Prerequisites: LIBS1002 (LS10B) and LIBS1501 (LS15A)

LEVEL III

Semester 1

LIBS3003 PUBLIC LIBRARY SERVICES

(LS30C)

(3 credits)

This course is designed to acquaint students with the development of public library services, their mission and orientation. It enables students to study the application of general library management theories and practices in this type of library service, highlighting the special approaches necessary and the nature of the clientele served. Current trends in the role and function as well as new avenues of services are examined.

Prerequisites: Passes in LIBS1201 (LS12A) and LIBS1202 (LS12B)

LIBS3004 SCHOOL LIBRARIES AND LEARNING RESOURCE CENTRES (LS30D)

(3 credits)

This course covers the development of the modern School Library/LRC, its role and functions in the educational institution, the role of the school librarian and the accompanying administrative responsibilities as they relate to the various aspects of the school library programme. Special attention is paid to integrating the school library into the curriculum and the school librarian's relationship with the principal, faculty and students. All these issues are discussed with direct reference to the Caribbean.

Prerequisites: Passes in LIBS1201 (LS12A) and LIBS1202 (LS12B)

LIBS3206 INFORMATION RESOURCES IN SELECTED ENVIRONMENTS
(LS32F)

(3 credits)

This course will focus on the characteristics of Information Users in the Humanities, Social Sciences and Science & Technology. Attention will be paid to the producers of information as well as the characteristics and major sources of information in these environments.

Prerequisite: A Pass in LIBS2201 (LS22A)

LIBS3207 LITERATURE FOR CHILDREN & YOUNG ADULTS (LS32G)

(3 credits)

The course looks at the characteristics, developmental needs and interests of children and young adults and how these affect their response to literature. It examines the different types and sources of multimedia material - fiction and non-fiction - and their evaluation, selection and use. Indigenous resources for Caribbean children and young adults are stressed. The value of literature for young people and current trends and issues in the field are also included.

Prerequisite: None

LIBS3501 AUTOMATION IN INFORMATION WORK II
(LS35A)

(3 credits)

This course goes beyond the applications of computers in technical support systems to the wider concepts of automation in information resources management and systems development, and includes planning, analysis, design, implementation and evaluation. The whole range of automated information support systems and services are examined as well as standardization and compatibility issues concerned with networking. Selected trends in this dynamic field are also included.

Prerequisite: A Pass in LIBS2501 (LS25A)

LIBS ACCESS TO INFORMATION IN THE (LS39A) CARIBBEAN

(3 credits)

This research-linked course examines factors influencing access to information in the Caribbean. It looks at six factors- content, usability, connectivity, affordability, policy development and intellectual property rights. Students undertake desk research on the role of Caribbean libraries in the development of information infrastructure, library and information networks, electronic networks and in facilitating access to the Internet.

Prerequisite: A pass in LIBS2301 (LS23A)

Semester 2

LIBS3005 MANAGEMENT OF LIBRARIES IN SELECTED ENVIRONMENTS
(LS30E)

(3 credits)

The course will focus on the essential characteristics of the Users, Services, Management Issues and Trends associated with Special Libraries and Information Centres; and University and Research Libraries. It will highlight the impact of internal and external factors on these libraries and the strategies which have been developed for efficient organization and effective service delivery. Special attention will be paid to the management of these libraries in the Caribbean.

Prerequisite: Passes in LIBS1201 (LS12A) and LIBS1202 (LS12B)

LIBS3602 INFORMATION LITERACY: CONCEPT AND PROCESS

(LS36B)

(3 credits)

An examination of the definition and concept of information literacy - its evolution and various components and how they relate to the school curriculum. The contents of the information skills curriculum for use in schools will be looked at and some of the various approaches used to impart these skills to young people. Major theories regarding information-seeking behaviour will also be explored as well as strategies for cooperative lesson-planning and independent research.

Prerequisites: Pass in LIBS3004 (LS30D)

LIBS3701 AUDIOVISUAL INFORMATION WORK II
(LS37A)

(3 credits)

This course will provide students with experience in planning, producing and presenting audiovisual materials as well as the administering of multimedia services. It shows how audiovisual media embraces a developing technology of great significance to information workers. Audiovisual productions, providing they are properly planned, produced and presented, can make a most effective contribution to information delivery and communication in the fields of management, public relations, education and training, user orientation and information retrieval.

Prerequisite: A Pass in LIBS2701 (LS27A)

LIBS RECORDS MANAGEMENT: PRINCIPLES
(LS38A) AND PRACTICE (currently offered online)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the main principles of records and information management. It covers the major components in managing the internal information of an organization and provides an understanding of the theory and practice of establishing records. This course provides an overview of key concepts, and the societal, legal, organizational, and technological context within which records (regardless of their physical form) are created, organized, used and preserved.

Prerequisite: Fulfilment of the requirements for doing a Level III course or special permission from instructor.

Major in LITERATURES IN ENGLISH

Students who declare a major in this area (at least 12 courses or 36 credits) MUST take LITS1001 (E10A), LITS1002 (E10B) and LITS1003 (E10C). All students who wish to read Level II or Level III courses in Literatures in English must have passed the Level I course in the particular genre. For example, LITS1001 (E10A) is required for all Level II and Level III courses in Poetry, LITS1002 (E10B) is required for all Level II and Level III courses in Prose Fiction, and LITS1003 (E10C) for all Level II and Level III courses in Drama. Please note however that a few courses may have more than one Level I course as pre-requisites.

Each of the above courses lasts for one semester, with 3 contact hours each week. Normally coursework is assessed for 40% of the marks available and, at the end of the semester there is a written examination for the remaining 60%.

All students declaring a Major in Literatures in English must by the end of their final year have passed the following Level II or Level III courses, with no courses counting more than once:

- (1) a West Indian Literature course
 - (2) a poetry course
 - (3) a Shakespeare course
 - (4) a Modern Prose Fiction course
 - (5) a course in Critical Approaches or literary Theory
- (such
- as a Key Issues course)
 - (6) a course in modern drama

LITERATURES IN ENGLISH

NB: I) The information as to what courses are being offered in which semester is subject to change. Students should check with the Department before registering.

II) Liberal studies: for Level II any three courses, one in each genre, from the Department's offering; the same applies for the two courses from Level III.

(E 10F)

LITS2103 MODERN PROSE FICTION
(E 21C) (3 credits)

The course will examine approaches to prose fiction in the 20th Century, from the traditional to the experimental. It will explore some of the techniques and concerns of modern fiction, through detailed study of four or five texts.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B)

LITS2107 AFRICAN/DIASPORA WOMEN'S NARRATIVE
(E 21G) (3 Credits)

Beginning with the analysis of one South African and one West Indian novel, the course defines indigenous African feminist perspectives from which to compare the diasporic African-American and Caribbean texts. The authors' use of narrative conventions and modes such as autobiography, the bildungsroman, the romance, the quest/journey motif, dreams, visions and awakenings suggests a tradition of female discourses that cross lines of race, class, ethnicity and gender. These female-authored African/Diasporic narratives employ "mainstream" canonical literary techniques while simultaneously sharing discursive strategies with other feminist texts that contest the hegemony of the phallogentric literary canon. Techniques of oracy, for example, constitute an alternate, privileged discourse for those African/Diasporic women writers.

Prerequisite: LIS1002 (E10B)

L2111 CONTEMPORARY GENRES: CRIME AND (E 21K) SCIENCE FICTION

(3 credits)

Crime and Science fiction are among the most popular and socially responsible contemporary genres, but have traditionally been excluded from academic study, and remain neglected in the UK and throughout the commonwealth. This course provides an introduction to the history, critical reception, and contemporary practice of two major forms of prose fiction, looking in each case at novels from the UK, US, and Jamaica.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B)

LITS2207 INTRODUCTION TO SHAKESPEARE
(E 22G)

fiction essays, and his posthumous novel Juneteenth. The next three writers are texts by Latinos, now the largest “minority” in the United States (over 40 million): as with Ellison’s racially ambiguous characters, they challenge us to develop a world-view beyond a black-and-white binary. Fuentes’ Old Gringo enables us to see the border between the United States and Latin America as a region in which North Americans and Latin Americans have profoundly influenced each other. Cristina Garcia and Esmerelda Santiago illustrate how the process of immigration from the Spanish-speaking Caribbean to the United States is changing both the identity of immigrants, and the culture of the U.S. mainstream. Boyle’s Tortilla Curtain, about a California environmentalist’s close encounter with a Mexican illegal immigrant, illustrates how Anglo writers are coming to terms with the issues of intercultural relations.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B)

LITS2113 WRITING AFRICA FROM THE DIASPORA
(E 21M)

(3 credits)

This course seeks to examine the literary representations of Africa with specific reference to selected texts by writers from the African Diaspora (USA and the Caribbean). Specific attention will be paid to issues/concepts such as slavery, middle passage, diaspora, pan-Africanism, identity, gender and memory.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B)

LITS2201 DRAMA I
(E 22A)

(3 credits)

This course covers the period from Greek drama to 18th century drama. Students will be required to do detailed study of the plays, and to locate them in their historical context, including staging and acting conventions.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B)

LITS2304 KEY ISSUES IN LITERARY CRITICISM II: THE (E 23D) NATURE AND FUNCTION OF LITERATURE

(3 credits)

The course will explore questions of definition, purpose, representation, ideology, politics and the relationship between form and content.

Prerequisite: At least 6 Level I credits in English courses.

LITS2505 WEST INDIAN DRAMA
(E 25E)
(3 credits)

An introduction to West Indian Drama, by survey lectures and by detailed study of four or five texts.

Prerequisite: LITS1003 (E10C)

LITS2511 WEST INDIAN AUTOBIOGRAPHY
(E 25K)
(3 credits)

This course explores the issues of self-representation and cultural identity in West Indian autobiography. It examines the function of autobiography in defining the West Indian subject and the relationship between individual and collective self-definition.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B) or any West Indian Literature course

LITS2604 CREATIVE WRITING, PROSE FICTION
(E 26D)
(3 credits)

This is a workshop course in the writing of prose fiction. Students will be required to write regularly and to submit new pieces of their work at least once a fortnight for workshop discussion.

Prerequisite: At least two pieces of original work submitted to the lecturer of the course

LEVEL III

Semester 1

LITS3103 THE CITY IN FICTION
(E 31C)
(3 credits)

The course will analyse four or five novels which use the city, the definitive modern landscape, as a setting and as an objective correlative.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B)

LITS3204 SHAKESPEARE 1
(E 32D)

(3 credits)

This will be a study of selected plays with particular attention to Shakespearean dramaturgy and the social contexts of the plays.

Prerequisite: At least one Level II Drama or Poetry course (For non majors the prerequisite for this course is E22G)

LITS3317 POSTCOLONIAL LITERATURE II
(E 33Q)

(3 credits)

This course will explore the literary depiction of nationalism and the nation in selected texts from Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and the South Pacific. The regional focus will vary from year to year.

Prerequisite: LITS2301 (E23A) or LITS2304 (E23D)

LITS3503 DEREK WALCOTT, POET
(E 35C)

(3 credits)

A comprehensive examination of Walcott's poetic achievement with close study of selected works. Attention will be paid to form and style as well as content.

Prerequisite: At least one Level II poetry course

LITS3701 AFRICAN-AMERICAN LITERATURE
(E 37A)

(3 credits)

This course explores a representative sampling of the literature produced by African-Americans from the antebellum era to the present. In this semester, the focus will be on the novel.

Prerequisite: At least one Level II prose fiction course.

LITS3801 ENVIRONMENTAL LITERATURE
(E 38A)

(3 credits)

The relationship between "man and nature" is a recurring theme in many national literatures, and has been expressed in both utopian and dystopian manners. This course frames Environmental Literature as a subset of Utopian and Dystopian writing. It surveys mostly late twentieth- and early twenty-first century "nature writing", introducing this body of work as having intertextual relationships with other eras and non-Western cultural traditions (the Biblical world; indigenous spirituality, etc). Recent criticism notes Environmental Literature's affiliation with post-colonial studies, in that both fields attempt to listen to a previously silenced "other", and provide de-centred opposition to (or alternatives to) destructive systems. Making visible such affiliations beyond the scope of Environmental Literature proper will be a central aim of this class.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B) and one Level II Prose Fiction course

Semester 2

LITS3001 MODERN POETRY (E 30A)

(3 credits)

This course will examine the transition and evolution of English poetry from the late 19th century to the poetry of the 20th century and will consist of an in-depth examination of the work of several poets whose work is considered representative of Modern British and American poetry in terms of their techniques, themes and concerns. This semester the focus will be on the work of T.S. Eliot, W.H. Auden, W.B. Yeats and Sylvia Plath.

Prerequisite: LITS1001 (E 10A) and one level II poetry course

LITS3006 BORDERLANDS CINEMA (E 30F)

(3 credits)

We'll start with a brief overview of film theory and information about film production. But this course is primarily thematic, analysing cinematic treatments of relationships across boundaries of nation, ethnicity, religion, species, etc. The course draws on interpretive skills taught in literature departments, but also on socio-cultural analysis as developed in the social sciences, and forms of analysis specific to cinema. Among the objectives: to further explore the concept of film literacy; to compare film language with related idioms: literary language, the languages of popular culture, politics etc.; to encourage thought and research papers on topics specific to the cinematic challenges of representing relations that transgress the boundaries of “race”, nation, region, gender, etc.

Prerequisite: LITS1006 (E10F) and one level II prose fiction course.

LITS3205 SHAKESPEARE II
(E 32E)

(3 credits)

This will be a study of selected comedies and Late Plays (or “Romances”), with particular attention to Shakespearean dramaturgy, the evolution and innovations of Shakespearean comedy, and the relation of text and performance from the 1950’s to the present. Screen adaptations of Much Ado and Twelfth Night will also be considered.

Prerequisite: For English Majors: LITS1001 (E10A), LITS1003 (E10C) and at least one Level II Drama or Poetry course. For Non-English Majors: LITS1001 (E10A), LITS1003(E10C)and LITS2207 (E22G)

LITS3402 CLASSIC AMERICAN PROSE FICTION
(E 34B)

(3 credits)

This course will fill a gap in the range of courses offered at present in the Department, in its exploration of a representative sample of canonical American fiction within the context of the literary and cultural currents that defined American society between the post-independence period and the modernist era.

Prerequisite: LITS1002 (E10B) and one Level II prose fiction course

LITS3501 WEST INDIAN LITERATURE: A (E 35B) SPECIAL AUTHOR SEMINAR (Lovelace)

(3 credits)

A research-oriented study of the work of one major West Indian author.

Prerequisite: A Pass in at least one Level II West Indian Literature course at Grade B or higher.

LITS3601 AFRICAN LITERATURE I
(E 36A)

(3 credits)

This course is intended as an introduction to the study of African literature in English with reference to selected texts by important writers such as Achebe and Soyinka. The focus of the course (e.g. the 'Aesthetics of African Literature') varies from year to year. The representation of colonialism, nationalism, and neo-colonialism is a recurring theme. We will also examine the issues of tradition and modernity, gender politics, and the politics of literary form in African literature.

This is the sequel to SPAN2501 (S 25A). Students will be expected to have developed a higher level of competence in all areas at the end of this course: reading comprehension, oral expression, listening comprehension, translation and composition.

Prerequisite: SPAN2501 (S 25A)

SPAN2705 LITERATURE OF THE SPANISH CARIBBEAN
(S 27E)

(3 credits)

The purpose of this course is to: (a) expose students to a selection of literary works of different genres produced in the twentieth-century Spanish Caribbean (b) analyze the literary devices associated with each genre (c) examine the responses of writers to issues in their respective countries (e.g., race, neoliberalism, and the search for identity).

Prerequisites: SPAN1002 (S11B) and one 3-credit Level I course in Spanish, French or English Literature.

LEVEL III

Year Long Course

SPAN3199 SPANISH LANGUAGE III
(S 311)

(6 credits)

Advanced study of modern Spanish involving linguistic analysis (syntactic, lexical and stylistic) of a wide range of contemporary writing including literary and journalistic prose. The aim of the course is to achieve a higher level in the command and comprehension of written and spoken Spanish. It includes exploration, analysis, and discussion of the different aspects of the language and the culture of the people who speak it. Emphasis will be placed on the development of communicative skills.

Prerequisite: SPAN2199 (S211) or SPAN2502 (S25B)

Semester 1

SPAN3001 INTRODUCTION TO SPANISH TRANSLATION
(S 30A)

(3 credits)

This course gives students practice in translating Spanish texts accurately and appropriately into English. It will enable them to develop insight into the nature of both languages, to understand the ways in which each language conveys meaning and cultural values and improve their Spanish reading comprehension skills.

Prerequisite: A minimum B pass in SPAN2199 (S211)

Co-requisite: SPAN3199 (S311)

SPAN3302 LITERATURE OF THE CUBAN REVOLUTION
(S 33B) (Not offered 2006-2007)

(3 credits)

This course examines the impact of the Cuban Revolution on literature in that society. The varied responses to radical social and political change and a changed ideological environment will be considered through the traditional genres, within the context of the interaction of the state with cultural and literary expression.

Prerequisites: SPAN1002 (S11B) and at least one 3-credit Spanish, French or English Literature course.

SPAN3001 SPANISH LANGUAGE IIIA
(S 35A)

(3 credits)

This advanced course enable students to achieve a higher level of competence in reading, listening, writing and speaking for real life communication. The cultural dimension of language learning is an important aspect of the course. The cultural material is used to explore different aspects of the culture in Spanish-speaking people. The course involves mostly work in Spanish. It covers five main areas which develop both comprehension and production of Spanish: (1) Reading comprehension, (2) Translation into Spanish, (3) Written creative expression (Composition), (4) Listening comprehension and (5) Conversation/Oral expression.

Prerequisite: A pass in SPAN2199 (S211), SPAN2502 (S25B)

SPAN3702 SPANISH AMERICAN WOMEN'S NARRATIVE
(S 37B)

(3 credits)

This course involves a study of the contribution made by female writers to the corpus of 20th century Spanish American Fiction. The focus will be on the female concerns and more specifically on the gender issues raised by the writers. The critical approach to be used will draw largely on Feminist Literary Theory.

Prerequisite: SPAN1002 (S11B) and at least one 3-credit Level I course in Literature (preferably Spanish, but may be English or French).

Semester 2

SPAN3502 BUSINESS SPANISH
(S 30B)

(3 credits)

The purpose of this course is to introduce students at the advanced level to the complexities of Spanish business terminology and communication. Each business aspect will be reinforced by written and oral exercises including a review of technical and commercial terms, translation of business documents from English into Spanish, composition of business letters, advertisements etc.

Prerequisite: SPAN2199 (S211)

Co-requisite: SPAN3199 (S311)

SPAN3301 ISSUES IN CONTEMPORARY CUBAN CULTURE
(S 33A)

(3 credits)

NOTE: This course may be taken to satisfy the Research Project HUMN3099(AR3X0) requirement and the requirement for the Major.

This course examines the experimentation and controversies

NOTE: This course may be taken to satisfy the Research Project HUMN3099 (AR3X0) requirement and the requirement for the Major.

Students in this course will study 3 Spanish American novels written in the 1960s - the period known as the "Boom". They will explore the different ways in which the novelists revolutionized traditional realist narrative and incorporated unorthodox forms such as those characteristics of popular and mass culture.

Prerequisites: SPAN1002 (S11B) and at least one 3-credit Level I course in Literature (preferably Spanish, but may be English or French).

CROSS FACULTY HUMANITIES MAJORS

Major in COMPUTER SCIENCE

A minimum of 44 credits in Computer Science including the following compulsory courses:

LEVEL I (12 credits)

- COMP1110 (CS11A) Introduction to Computer Science I (6 credits)
- COMP1120 (CS11B) Introduction to Computer Science II (6 credits)

LEVEL II (at least 16 credits)

- COMP (CS20R) Analysis of Algorithm (4 credits)
- COMP (CS20S) Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science (4 credits)
- COMP (CS27Q) Object-Oriented Programming (4 credits)

* EITHER OPTION A OR B

OPTION A

- COMP (CS23Q) Computer Organization (4 credits)

OPTION B

- COMP (CS21R) Computer Architecture and Organization (4 credits)
- COMP (CS21S) Digital Logic Design (4 credits)

LEVEL III (at least 16 credits)

- COMP (CS39Q) Group Project (4 credits)

Both COMP1110 (CS11A) and COMP1120 (CS11B) must be successfully completed before the student can proceed to Part II courses in Computer Science.

LEVEL II

A major in Computer Science requires thirty-two (32) credits from Part II Computer Science courses. These must include COMP (CS20R), COMP (CS20S), COMP (CS27Q) and either COMP (CS232Q) or COMP (CS21R) and COMP (CS21S), as well as at least sixteen (16) credits from Level III courses.

Semester 1

COMP (CS20S) DISCRETE MATHEMATICS FOR COMPUTER SCIENCE
(4 credits)

Logic and Proof Techniques, Reflexivity, Symmetry, Anti-symmetry and Transitivity, Asymptotic Analysis, Counting, Elementary Probability Theory, Generating Functions and their Applications, Graph Theory.

Prerequisite: COMP1110 (CS11A) and COMP1120 (CS11B)

COMP (CS21S) DIGITAL LOGIC DESIGN
(4 credits)

Number Systems and Codes, Combinational Logic Circuits, Flip-Flops and their Applications, Memory and Programmable Devices.

Prerequisites: COMP1110 (CS11A) and COMP1120 (CS11B)

COMP (CS27Q) OBJECT-ORIENTED PROGRAMMING
(4 credits)

Classes and Objects, Methods; members; message passing, encapsulation and information-hiding; separation of behaviour and implementation, Primitive types; array, string processing; I/O processing; pointers and references; linked structures; Debugging tools; Object-oriented analysis and design; design for reuse; Introduction to the concept and use of design patterns.

Prerequisites: COMP1120 (CS11B)

Semester 2

COMP ANALYSIS OF ALGORITHMS
(CS20R) (4 credits)

Recursive Data structures (lists and trees) and recursion as a problem solving tool, Heaps as implementations for priority queues, binary search trees, Red-Black trees, Elementary Number Theory (Modular Arithmetic, Chinese Remainder Theorem, Groups formed from \mathbb{Z} modulo a prime), NP-completeness.

Prerequisites: COMP1110 (CS11A) and COMP1120 (CS11B)

COMP COMPUTER ARCHITECTURE AND (CS21R) ORGANIZATION
(4 credits)

Number Systems and Codes, Alphanumeric codes. ASCII, Combinational Logic Circuits, Boolean Algebra and the Karnaugh Map used to simplify and design logic circuits, Flip-Flops and their Applications, Synchronous and Asynchronous systems, ROM architecture and timing, Programmable logic devices, RAM architecture and timing.

Prerequisites: COMP1110 (CS11A) and COMP1120 (CS11B)

COMP COMPUTER ORGANIZATION
(CS23Q)

(4 credits)

Electronic Bits, Basic Components, Achieving Computation, Processor Architecture, Flavours of Parallelism (Briefly), Data Representation, Exceptions, Caching, Virtual Memory, Multi-tasking, Peripherals.

Prerequisites: COMP1110 (CS11A) and COMP1120 (CS11B)

LEVEL III

Semester 1 and 2

COMP GROUP PROJECT (Compulsory)
(CS39Q)

(4 credits)

Groups of maximally four students will identify a problem faced by some organization or individual, and engage in software engineering exercise with a view of developing an information system to solve the problem. In particular, they will interact with relevant person(s) to develop a problem definition document. In addition, they will design and implement a computer-based solution to the problem. Throughout, they will be supervised by a staff member, who will meet with each group of students at least once a week. Groups are expected to hand in a fully implementable information system plus supporting documentation. Describe what compilers are and why compilers are central in Computer Science. Identify and describe the different phases in a compilation.

Prerequisites: COMP (CS20R) AND COMP (CS27Q)

Semester 1

COMP (CS32Q) COMPUTER COMMUNICATIONS AND NETWORK
(4 credits)

Fundamental Principles of Communications, transmission media, idle RQ and continuous RQ protocols, error handling, computer networks, Terminal based networks and their protocols, Introduction to the ISO's OSI standard, Local networks architecture, topology and protocols.

Prerequisites: COMP1120 (CS11B) and COMP (CS23Q)

COMP3120 (CS33Q) INTRODUCTION TO ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE
(4 credits)

Search techniques, problem solving paradigms, theorem proving, expert systems, natural language understanding, knowledge representation, knowledge representation schemes for definite knowledge in a static world., reasoning with knowledge, first order predicate calculus, resolution reasoning about a Non-static World, representation of actions, STRIPS, partial ordering of events, non-monotonic reasoning, closed-world assumption, default reasoning, circumscription.

Prerequisite: COMP2110 (CS20A) and COMP2100 (CS20Q)

COMP3110 INFORMATION SYSTEMS IN ORGANISATIONS
(CS35Q)

(4 credits)

The nature of information in an organisation, strategic role of information and information systems, different applications of information technology, automating current procedures, offering new services, business process re-engineering, different methods of introducing new information systems, dangers of the introduction of information technology, description of the information systems used by a large organisation.

Prerequisite: COMP2140 (CS22Q)

COMP COMPILER DESIGN
(CS36Q)

(4 credits)

Describe what compilers are and why compilers are central in Computer Science, Identify and describe the different phases in a compilation, Discuss different techniques for different phases in a compilation (in particular, parsing, optimization and code generation) and their advantages and drawbacks, Discuss some of the differences between compiling statically typed languages, Design and implement a compiler for a simple toy language, Demonstrate how techniques used in compiler design can be used in other areas of Computer Science.

Prerequisite: COMP (CS20A) and COMP (CS20Q)

Semester 2

COMP OPERATING SYSTEMS
(CS31A)

(4 credits)

Job control, command languages and user interface, operating system structure, primary and secondary storage management, process management, resource allocation, performance evaluation, protection, reliability and recovery.

Prerequisite: COMP1120 (CS11B) and COMP (CS23Q)

COMP DATABASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS
(CS35A)

(4 credits)

Goal of DBMS including data independence, relationships, logical and physical organizations, schema and subschema, trade-offs between utilization of data, control of data. Relational, hierarchical and network models with a description of the logical and data structure representation of the database system. Data normalization, relational algebra, relational calculus, new trends in database.

Prerequisites: COMP (CS20S)

COMP USER INTERFACE DESIGN
(CS35R)

(4 credits)

The role of user interfaces in computer applications. Human Factors: perception, movement, and cognition. Ergonomics, HCI models, UI paradigms: command, graphical user interface (GUI), etc. UI Guidelines. Overview of graphics systems, display devices, input devices. Collaborative Systems. Embedded Systems. UI development cycle: investigation, design, prototyping, evaluation, implementation. Prototyping: storyboarding, implementation. Evaluation methods: heuristic, observational, empirical.

Prerequisites: COMP (CS22Q) and COMP (CS27Q)

COMP LOGIC, COMPUTABILITY AND (CS37Q) COMPUTABILITY

(4 credits)

Express simple assertions in English in Predicate Logic. Determine the validity of arguments. Describe: Finite State Automata, Push-down Automata, Turing Machines and the Languages they recognize. Determine the decidability of languages by applying mapping reductions. Describe the complexity classes P and NP. Apply polynomial reductions to classify the complexity of algorithms.

Prerequisite: COMP (CS20Q)

Major in GEOGRAPHY

A minimum of 44 credits in Geography including the following:

LEVEL I

GEOG1101 (GG10A) Introduction to Human Geography (6 credits)

GEOG1201 (GG10B) Introduction to Physical Geography (6 credits)

A weekly 4-hour Practical Geography class, a weekly tutorial and at least one field project are integral parts of GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B).

LEVEL II

GEOG2301 (GG20R) Geographical Thought and Research Methods (4 credits)

and at least THREE of the following:

GEOG2101 (GG21A) Urban Geography (4 credits)

GEOG2102 (GG21B) Geography and Development (4 credits)

GEOG2201 (GG22A) Geosphere and Hydrosphere (4 credits)

GEOG2202 (GG22B) Atmosphere and Biosphere (4 credits)

Each of these Level II courses will include practical classes, a fieldwork project, and tutorials. The prerequisites for all Level II courses are GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B).

LEVEL III

GEOG3301 (GG30C) Geography of the Caribbean (4 credits)

GEOG3401 (GG36R) Geography Research Project (4 credits)
(in fulfilment of the requirement for AR3X0) and AT LEAST TWO of the following courses (4 credits each):

Group A GEOG3101 (GG31A) Urbanization in Developing Countries

GEOG3102 (GG31B) Global Economic Structure

and

Process

- GEOG3103 (GG31C) Tropical Agricultural Systems and Development
- GEOG3104 (GG31D) Global Structure and Political Order
- GEOG3105 (GG31F) Health and Society
- GEOG3106 (GG31G) Geographies of Tourism

Group B

- GGEO3201 (GG32A) Geomorphic Processes and Landforms
- GGEO3202 (GG32E) Climate Change: Concepts, Causes and Issues

Group C

- GEOG3302 (GG33B) Urban and Regional Planning
- GEOG3303 (GG33C) Information Management Analysis

and

- GGEO3301 (GG33F) Introduction to Geographical Information Systems and Remote Sensing
- GGEO3302 (GG33K) Disaster Management
- GEOG3304 (GG33H) Environmental Resource Management

Each of these Level III courses has prerequisites which are detailed elsewhere in this booklet. If two of the Level III courses are selected (in addition to the two compulsory courses), they must be from different groups. If three or more courses are chosen, all groups must be represented in the selection.

Special in GEOGRAPHY

A minimum of 56 credits in Geography, including the following:

LEVEL I

- GEOG1101 (GG10A) Introduction to Human Geography (6 credits)
- GEOG1201 (GG10B) Introduction to Physical Geography (6 credits)

A weekly 4-hour Practical Geography class, a weekly tutorial and at least one field project are integral parts of GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B).

LEVEL II

GEOG2301 (GG20R) Geographical Thought and Research Methods (4 credits)

and at least THREE of the following:

GEOG2101 (GG21A) Urban Geography (4 credits)
GEOG2102 (GG21B) Geography and Development (4 credits)
GEOG2201 (GG22A) Geosphere and Hydrosphere (4 credits)
GEOG2202 (GG22B) Atmosphere and Biosphere (4 credits)

Each of these Level II courses includes practical classes, a fieldwork project, and tutorials. The prerequisites for all Level II courses are GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B).

LEVEL III

GEOG3301 (GG30C) Geography of the Caribbean (4 credits)
GEOG3401 (GG36R) Geography Research Project (4 credits)
and AT LEAST FIVE of the following courses (4 credits each):

Group A

- GEOG3101 (GG31A) Urbanization in Developing Countries
- GEOG3102 (GG31B) Global Economic Structure and Process
- GEOG3103 (GG31C) Tropical Agricultural Systems and Development
- GEOG3104 (GG31D) Global Structure and Political Order
- GEOG3105 (GG31F) Health and Society
- GEOG3106 (GG31G) Geographies of Tourism

Group B

- GGE03201 (GG32A) Geomorphic Processes and Landforms
- GGE03202 (GG32E) Climate Change: Concepts, Causes & Issues

Group C	GEOG3302 (GG33B)	Urban and Regional Planning
	GEOG3303 (GG33C)	Information Management and Analysis
	GGEO3301 (GG33F)	Introduction to Geographical Information Systems and Remote Sensing
	GGEO3302 (GG33K)	Disaster Management
	GEOG3304 (GG33H)	Environmental Resource Management

Each of these Level III courses has prerequisites which are detailed elsewhere in this booklet. All groups must be represented in the selection.

GEOGRAPHY

NOTE

- 1) Students intending to read any course(s) in Geography are advised that it will be necessary to conduct field work on Saturdays. Non-attendance will debar them from final examinations. ALL field work in Geography is mandatory.
- 2) Where an examination has a practical or coursework component as well as a final examination, candidates must satisfy the examiners in ALL PARTS.

LEVEL I

Semester 1

GEOG1101 INTRODUCTION TO HUMAN GEOGRAPHY (GG10A)

(6 credits)

Population growth, distribution and movements. Population and resources. World food supply. Agricultural activity and systems. Industrial location, power resources, transportation systems. Economic growth in developing areas.

Methods of geographical investigation (laboratory course of 48 hours): Methods and problems of compilation, design and execution of various types of maps and diagrams. Introduction to quantitative analysis in geography.

Prerequisite: Geography at CXC or its equivalent.

Semester 2

GEOG1201 INTRODUCTION TO PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY (GG10B)

(6 credits)

Introduction to geomorphic processes. Weathering, earth structure, tectonics, volcanism. Elements of meteorology and climatology. Environmental systems. Introduction to the study of vegetation and soils.

Methods of geographical investigation (laboratory course of 48 hours): Introduction to aerial photography and field survey techniques. Exercises in geomorphology and climatology.

Prerequisite: Geography at CXC or its equivalent.

N.B.: Both GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B) are examined by: (a) three-hour written papers (75%) and (b) practical work and tutorials graded on a weekly basis (25%).

Both GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B) must be successfully completed before a student can proceed to Level II Geography courses.

LEVEL II

Students wishing to major in Geography must include passes in GEOG1101 (GG10A), GEOG1201 (GG10B), GEOG2301 (GG20R), THREE of the courses [GEOG2101(GG21A), GEOG2102(GG21B), GEOG2201(GG22A), GEOG2202(GG22B)], GEOG3301 (GG30C), GEOG3401 (GG36R), and AT LEAST TWO other Level III Geography courses (which must be selected from different groups). For a Special in Geography the same conditions apply, except that instead of “at least two other Level III courses” the student must read “at least five other Level III Geography courses” (which must be selected from different groups).

Semester 1

GEOG2101 URBAN GEOGRAPHY (GG21A)

(4 credits)

An introduction to the key areas of urban geography, with a particular focus on urban land use and the planning of urban systems. Much of this theoretical framework of urban geography is based on studies of cities in developed countries, especially in North America.

Prerequisites: GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B)

GEOG2201 GEOSPHERE AND HYDROSPHERE
(GG22A)

(4 credits)

An introduction to hillslope processes and movement on slopes, the work of rivers within a fluvial system, the work of waves, tides and currents in coastal zones, and beach and shoreline processes and landforms. An introduction to hydrology; components of the hydrological cycle, and the impact of human modification of the hydrological cycle.

Prerequisites: GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B)

GEOG2202 ATMOSPHERE AND BIOSPHERE
(GG22B)

(4 credits)

The recognition of non-random patterns in species distribution; causal processes in species distribution; and an explanation of species distribution in space and time. Climate variations in the tropics. The nature of the atmosphere near the ground. The dynamics of and the debate on global warming and climate change. Climate classifications.

Prerequisites: GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B)

Semester 2

GEOG2102 GEOGRAPHY AND DEVELOPMENT
(GG21B)

(4 credits)

An examination of global patterns of development and global processes of polarization and marginalization which lead to disparities and deprivation. The course focuses on location theory models, especially those of von Thünen and Weber.

Prerequisites: GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B)

GEOG2301 GEOGRAPHICAL THOUGHT AND RESEARCH METHODS
(GG20R)

(4 credits)

Defining a research problem. Theoretical frameworks and geographic thought.

Formulation of the research design: methods and data. Methods of data analysis: qualitative and quantitative. Producing the report.

Prerequisites: GEOG1101 (GG10A) and GEOG1201 (GG10B)

GEOG2301 is examined by a two-hour written paper (40%) and coursework (60%). Each of the other Level II courses is examined by a two-hour written paper (60%) and coursework (40%).

LEVEL III

NOTE: Not all Level III courses may be offered in any one academic year. Students must check with the Head of Department before selecting courses at Level III.

Semester 1

GEOG3102 GLOBAL ECONOMIC STRUCTURE AND PROCESS
(GG31B)

(4 credits)

Studies in industrial location theory, transportation, international trade, regional planning and diversification, advanced Thünian theory, multinationals in global economies. The study of changes in the spatial and structural components of human activity.

Prerequisite: GEOG2102 (GG21B)

GEOG3103 TROPICAL AGRICULTURAL SYSTEMS AND DEVELOPMENT (GG31C)

(4 credits)

An advanced course on the geography of agricultural systems, focussing on the relationships between population, resources and the environment. Agricultural decision-making in theory and practice is applied to small-scale farming, and to problems in the agrarian sector in developing countries.

Prerequisites: GEOG2101 (GG21A) or GEOG2102 (GG21B)

GEOG3201 GEOMORPHIC PROCESSES AND LANDFORMS
(GG32A)

(4 credits)

An advanced course in the study of landforms and geomorphic course has three main parts: first, the theory and principles of GIS and RS are covered in a lecture setting; secondly, supervised hands-on practical exercises are run in the laboratory; and thirdly, projects are undertaken by students to apply the knowledge and skills to a specific problem. Areas covered by the course include (but are not limited to) data acquisition and processing, data automation, database management, spatial analysis, image processing, mapping and modelling.

Prerequisites: Two of GEOG2101(GG21A), GEOG2102 (GG21B),GEOG2201(GG22A), GEOG2202 (GG22B)

GEOG3304 ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT (GG33H)

(4 credits)

An introduction to the general principles of environmental resource management, with a view to developing basic skills in the assessment of environmental impacts. Topics covered include the concept of sustainable development, the economic evaluation of environmental resources, environmental impact assessment, and cost-benefit and cost-effective analyses.

Prerequisite: GEOG2201 (GG22A) or GEOG2202 (GG22B), or HOD permission

Semester 2

GEOG3101 URBANIZATION IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES (GG31A)

(4 credits)

A study of the processes of urbanization, urban patterns and the structure of cities in developing countries. The emphasis is on comparisons between the developed and the developing worlds, and consequently on the relevance of the theoretical framework of urban geography to patterns and processes in Third World countries.

Prerequisite: GEOG2101 (GG21A)

GEOG3104 GLOBAL STRUCTURE AND POLITICAL ORDER (GG31D)

(4 credits)

A study of spatial variations and interrelationships of political activities and systems. The effect of political action on the present-day geography of selected states and vice versa. Boundaries, geopolitics, growth of states, Law of the Sea, canals. Case studies of Germany, Israel, Yugoslavia, etc.

Prerequisite: GEOG2101 (GG21A) or GEOG2102 (GG21B)

GEOG3105 HEALTH AND SOCIETY
(GG31F) (4 credits)

The general objective of this course is to develop in students an understanding of the reasons underlying the geographies of health and health care. Specifically, it examines the social and environmental causes of ill health, and analyses the consumption of health care in the context of distribution and accessibility.

Prerequisites: GEOG2101 (GG21A) and GEOG2202 (GG22B)

GEOG3106 GEOGRAPHIES OF TOURISM
(GG31G) (4 credits)

The goal of this course is to provide a focused examination and understanding of the ways in which tourist practices are intricately interwoven with space and place. In particular, students will explore the different ways that tourism can be understood, and the significance that this has in relation to contemporary concerns about travel, globalisation, representation and development. Through an examination of selection of theoretical perspectives and case studies (e.g., colonialism and travel writing, mass tourism in the Caribbean, and ecotourism), the class will critically analyse how we understand concepts such as leisure and recreation, and how relationships between and across people and places exist in different ways.

Prerequisite: GEOG2102 (GG21B) or HOD permission

GEOG3202 CLIMATE CHANGE: CONCEPTS, CAUSES AND (GG32E) ISSUES
(4 credits)

Climate and climate change; components of the climate system; forcing, response, feedbacks; the Earth's climate system; climatic archives, data, proxies and models; dating methods; climatic changes in the past; causes of climatic change; the Holocene; probable impacts of future climate change.

Prerequisite: GEOG2202 (GG22B) or HOD permission

GEOG3002 URBAN AND REGIONAL PLANNING
(GG33B)

(4 credits)

The origin and growth of urban and regional planning. Planning principles and methods. Emphasis is on the contribution of geographic theory and methods to the planning process.

Prerequisite: GEOG2101 (GG21A) or GEOG2102 (GG21B)

GGE03302 DISASTER MANAGEMENT (GG33K)

(4 credits)

An introduction to the basic principles and techniques of disaster management. A study of theory, hazards, vulnerability, response capability, risk assessment, disaster scenarios, disaster management, preparedness, prevention, emergency response, and simulation.

Prerequisite: GEOG2201 (GG22A) or GEOG2202 (GG22B) or HOD permission

GEOG3401 GEOGRAPHY RESEARCH PROJECT
(GG36R)

(4 credits)

A 5,000 word research project approved by the department.

Prerequisites: GEOG2301 (GG20R), and any three from GEOG2101 (GG21A), GEOG2102 (GG21B), GEOG2201 (GG22A), GEOG2202 (GG22B).

All Level III courses, except GEOG3303 (GG33C), GEOG3401 (GG36R) and GGE03301 (GG33F) are evaluated as follows:

One 2-hour written paper	60%
Coursework	40%

GEOG3303 (GG33C) is evaluated entirely on weekly tests. The grade for GEOG3401 (GG36R) is derived from the research project submitted for examination. For GGEO3301 (GG33F), the evaluation is as follows:

One 2-hour written paper	50%
Laboratory exercises	40%
Project	10%

Major in MATHEMATICS

A minimum of 44 credits in Mathematics including:

LEVEL I (8 credits)

MATH1140 (M 10A)	Introductory Mathematics
MATH1150 (M 10B)	Functions of Real Variables

LEVEL II (4 credits each)

MATH2100 (M 20A)	Abstract Algebra
MATH2110 (M 20B)	Linear Algebra
MATH2120 (M 21Q)	Intro. To Mathematical Analysis
MATH2160 (M 21B)	Analysis & Math. Methods II

LEVEL III

16 credits from Level II and Level III at least 8 credits of which must be from Level III.

MATHEMATICS

A student majoring in Mathematics may not include among the courses being counted for credit:

- (i) ECON2017 (EC24J) or
- (ii) EC 23J or ECON2010 (EC23M), if MATH2140 (M25A) or MATH2150 (M25B) is also being counted.
- (iii) ECON (EC337) or its equivalent

LEVEL I

Semester I

MATH1140 INTRODUCTORY MATHEMATICS

(M 10A)

(6 credits)

Elementary logic, sets and elementary set operations, mapping from sets to sets. Binary operations. The field of real numbers \mathbb{R} , the field of complex numbers \mathbb{C} . Matrices and vectors, systems of linear equations. Mapping from \mathbb{R} to \mathbb{R} - continuity and consequences. Mappings from \mathbb{C} to \mathbb{C} - polynomials with real co-efficients, factorization and partial fraction expansions of rational functions.

Prerequisites: MATH0100 (M08B) and MATH0110 (M08C) or equivalent (A-Level Maths.)

Semester 2

MATH1150 FUNCTIONS OF REAL VARIABLES

(M 10B)

(6 credits)

Properties of differentiable functions of one real variable. The definite integral, primitives and methods of integration. Simple ordinary differential equations. Functions of two real variables and partial derivatives. Parametric representation of curves. Sequences and series.

Prerequisites: MATH0100 (M08B) and MATH0110 (M08C) or equivalent (A-Level Maths.)

LEVEL II

A Major in Mathematics requires passes in M20A, M20B, M21Q and M21B and sixteen (16) other credits from Levels II and III courses, at least 8 must be from Level II.

Semester 1

MATH2110 LINEAR ALGEBRA

(M 20B)

(4 credits)

Elements of sets and functions, vector space, linear forms, linear transformations, matrices, determinants, systems of linear equations, quadratic forms and their reduction.

Prerequisite: MATH1140 (M10A) and MATH1150 (M10B)

MATH INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL
(M 21Q) ANALYSIS

(4 credits)

Apply the main theorems in this subject area to new problems in order to draw valid conclusions. Analyze the proofs, especially the standard data-epsilon proofs, of the basic facts of mathematical analysis and extend them to new results where appropriate. Construct proofs, especially data-epsilon proofs, for new but elementary results on their own initiative.

Prerequisites:

MATH2140 PROBABILITY THEORY
(M 25A)

(4 credits)

Basic probability theory. Laws of probability, conditional probability, independence, Bayes formula, random variables, discrete and continuous distributions, expectations, moments, moment generating functions, (functions of random variables, jointly distributed random variables). Special distributions; binomial, geometric, negative binomial, Poisson, hypergeometric, uniform, exponential, gamma, normal. Laws of large numbers, the central limit theorem.

Prerequisite: MATH1140 (M10A) and MATH1150 (M10B)

MATH2210 MATHEMATICS OF FINANCE
(M 27A)

(4 credits)

Measurement of interest; Solutions of problems in Interest; Basic annuities; more general annuities, Yield rates; Amortization schedules and sinking funds; Bonds and other securities; practical application.

Prerequisites: MATH1140 (M10A) and MATH1150 (M10B)

For Final Year and Actuarial Science students only.

Semester 2

MATH2100 ABSTRACT ALGEBRA
(M 20A)

(4 credits)

Functions, finite permutations, isomorphisms, group, rings and fields.

Prerequisite: MATH1140 (M10A) and MATH1150 (M10B)

MATH2160 ANALYSIS AND MATHEMATICAL METHODS II
(M 21B)

(4 credits)

The Laplace transform. Ordinary linear differential equations, Wronskian, Existence and Uniqueness Theorems (no proofs). Solution in series for first and second order non-singular and regular singular equations. Method of Frobenius. Fourier Series; two dimensional separable linear partial differential equations and solution by separation of variables and Fourier series. Functions of a single complex variable, continuity, differentiability, analyticity. Power Series, Cauchy-Riemann equations, contour integrals. Cauchy's Theorem, Cauchy's Integral formulae. Application to the evaluation of real improper integrals (Cauchy principal value).

Prerequisite: MATH1140 (M10A) and MATH1150 (M10B)

MATH2150 STATISTICAL INFERENCE
(M 25B)

(4 credits)

Sampling distributions including chi-square, t, f. Order statistics. Estimation of parameters, (likelihood, sufficiency), significance test. Simple linear regression and correlation. Analysis of variance. Non-parametric procedures, elementary principles of experimental design.

Prerequisite: MATH2140 (M25A) or permission from the Head of the Department.

MATH2320 INTRODUCTION TO ACTUARIAL MATHEMATICS

(M 27B)

(4 credits)

Survival distributions and life tables. Utility theory; life insurance; life annuities; commutation functions; net premiums and premium reserves; introduction to multiple life functions.

Prerequisites: MATH (M21Q), MATH2140 (M25A) and MATH2210 (M27A)

LEVEL III

Semester 1

MATH MATRIX THEORY
(M 30Q)

(4 credits)

Projections in \mathbb{R}^n and \mathbb{C}^n ; the adjoint of a matrix; special classes of matrices (Hermitian, positive definite, normal and unitary); Polynomials of matrices; the Jordan canonical form; the singular value decomposition, the Moor-Penrose (pseudo)-inverse.

Prerequisites: MATH2100 (M 20A) AND MATH2110 (M 20B)

MATH3341 APPLIED STATISTICS
(M 31E)

(4 credits)

Study is continued on the applied aspects of M25B such as analysis of variance; regression analysis; design of experiments, and categorical data analysis; but new topics including time series analysis; stochastic processes; and decision theory are introduced.

Prerequisites: MATH2110 (M20B), MATH2140 (M25A) and MATH2150 (M25B)

MATH3130 OPTIMIZATION THEORY
(M 32B)

(4 credits)

Linear programming and duality - mathematical structure of the primal. Equivalent linear programmes, simplex and revised simplex techniques, dual linear programmes. Complimentary slackness, matrix theoretic, the duality theorem. Special linear programmes, transportation problem, modified distribution techniques. Construction of algorithms for computation.

Evaluation: One 2-hour written paper (70%)
 Two in-course tests (30%)

Prerequisites: MATH2110 (M20B) and MATH2160 (M21B)

Prerequisites: MATH (M21Q)

MATH3370 TOPICS IN OPERATION RESEARCH
(M 32C)

(4 credits)

Theory of inventory, Replacement, Sequencing, Queuing theory, theory of games. Cannot be credited with EC34L and/or EC34M.

Evaluation: One 2-hour written paper (80%)
Two in-course tests (20%)

Prerequisites: MATH (M21Q)

MATH3340 ORDINARY DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS
(M 32Q)

(4 credits)

Basis Concepts: Phase spaces and phase flows, vector fields and phase flows on the line and in the plane, tangent spaces. Basic Theorems: Contraction mappings and fixed point theorems, existence, uniqueness, continuity and differentiability theorems. Linear Systems: Linearization, the exponential of an operator, complexification, classification of singular points of linear systems, Lyapunov functions, stability.

Evaluation: One 2-hour written paper (70%)
Coursework (30%)

Prerequisite: MATH2110 (M20B), MATH (M21Q) and MATH2160 (M21B)

MATH3490 COMPLEX ANALYSIS
(M 33R)

(4 credits)

Differentiability, Analyticity; Contour Integrals; Cauchy's Theorem and Consequences; Taylor's Series, Laurent Series, Residue Calculus.

Evaluation: One in-course test (25%)
One two-hour examination (75%)

Prerequisites: MATH (M21Q)

MATH3320 RISK THEORY
(M 34R)

(4 credits)

Review of earlier statistical work; individual risk theory; collective risk theory; other frequency distributors; mixed distributions; stop-loss insurance; ruin theory.

Evaluation: One 2-hour written paper (80%)
 Course work (or in-course test) (20%)

Prerequisites: MATH2160 (M21B), MATH (M21Q) and MATH2140 (M25A) MATH2150 (M25B)

MATH3321 PRINCIPLES OF ASSET/LIABILITY
MANAGEMENT FOR ACTUARIAL SCIENCE
(M 35R)

(4 credits)

Review of Macroeconomics; characteristics of the various types of investments used to fund financial security programmes; traditional techniques of financial analysis used in selecting and managing investment portfolios. The course builds on the material in courses MS28D and MS38H, introducing further tools and techniques of asset/liability management, general product design, as well as issues of pricing and valuation and asset management.

Prerequisite: MATH2210 (M27A), MS28D and MS38H

MATH3390 METRIC SPACES AND TOPOLOGY
(M 36Q)

(4 credits)

Metric Spaces , Continuity, Completeness, Connectedness: Topological Spaces, Compactness, Hausdorffness.

Prerequisite: MATH (M21Q) and MATH2110 (M20B)

PART V: THEOLOGY LICENTIATE IN THEOLOGY

REGULATIONS FOR THE LICENTIATE
IN THEOLOGY AND DEGREE OF BA (THEOLOGY)
THE UNITED THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

1. The Licentiate in Theology and/or the degree of Bachelor of Arts (Theology) will be awarded to students of Theological Colleges affiliated with The University of the West Indies who having completed the appropriate course of study prescribed by these Regulations have satisfied the examiners in the examination for the LTh and/or the BA (Theology).
2. The Theological Colleges concerned are responsible for the admission of candidates and shall submit to the University at the appropriate time a list of students and their qualifications for purposes of matriculation.

LICENTIATE IN THEOLOGY (LTh)

Qualifications for Admission

3. The following are eligible for admission to the prescribed course of study for the Licentiate in Theology:
 - (i) graduates of an approved University; or
 - (ii) candidates who have passed the Higher School Certificate examination or the General Certificate of Education in at least two principal advanced level subjects; or
 - (iii) candidates who qualify for admission under regulation 8 (B) of the Regulations Governing Matriculation;
 - (iv) individual candidates lacking qualifications under (i), (ii) or (iii), above, who can present other evidence of satisfactory achievement may be accepted by the University on recommendation of the Principal of the affiliated college.

Full-time Students

4. Candidates for the LTh shall pursue a prescribed course of study extending over a minimum of 6 and a maximum of 10 semesters before being eligible for the award of the Licentiate.
5. During this course of study they shall gain 60 credits, 36 of which must be at level one, as follows:

in Biblical Studies	–	8 Credits
in Theological and Ethical Studies	–	6
in Historical Studies	–	6
in Religious and Philosophical Studies	–	4
in Pastoral Studies	–	6
in University Courses	–	6

The remaining 24 credits must be gained at level two or at level three and must be taken from at least two of the Areas of Theological Studies.

6. Full-time students must register for a minimum of 10 credits in each semester. Such students may however, with the permission of their Theological College, register for more than 10 credits. Such additional credits shall be selected from those Theological courses provided for in the BA (Theology) degree programme.
7. A full-time student who, at the end of the second semester, has not completed at least 9 credits, shall be required to withdraw from the Licentiate programme. A student who has completed at least 9 credits at the end of the second semester may be permitted to continue provided that student gains at least 6 additional credits in each ensuing semester, (except in cases where fewer than six credits remain to complete the requirements for the LTh as set out in Regulation 5 above).

Part-time Students

8. Candidates may study for the LTh on a part-time basis. Such candidates must complete the course of study prescribed in Regulation 5 above, in a minimum of 8 semesters and maximum of 12 semesters. Part-time students shall register for a minimum of 6 credits and a maximum of 9 credits in each semester.

9. A part-time student who, at the end of the second semester, has not completed at least 6 credits, shall be required to withdraw from the Licentiate programme.
- 9a. A part-time student who has completed at least 6 credits at the end of the second semester shall be permitted to continue, provided that student gains at least 3 additional credits in each ensuing semester. This does not apply if less than three (3) credits remain to complete the requirements for the LTh as set out in Regulation 5 above.
10. If a candidate has (in accordance with Regulation 6 above) successfully completes more than the 60 credits (as prescribed in Regulation 5 above), such additional credits shall be indicated on the certificate issued to the successful candidate.

BA THEOLOGY

Qualifications for Admission

11. The normal qualifications for admission to the degree programme of the BA (Theology) are those of the Faculty of Humanities and Education, and are set out in Regulations 1 and 2 of the Faculty.
12. The following candidates may also be admitted to the degree programme of the BA (Theology):
 - (i) Candidates who qualify for admission on the basis of Regulation 7 of the Regulations Governing Matriculation, who successfully complete 2 preliminary semesters of study (as set out in Regulation 13 below), and who receive the recommendation of the Academic Boards of their respective Theological Colleges.

(ii) Candidates who are holders of the Licentiate in Theology of the UWI upon the recommendation of the Academic Board of the Affiliated Theological College.

13. (i) Candidates who qualify for admission at lower level to the BA (Theology) Programme must register as part-time students. Normally a part-time student will be required to spread the Level I University programme over four semesters.

(ii) Such candidates shall be required to take 15 credits in the first year of registration, which should include 6 credits of Foundation courses and 9 credits of Theology courses. (In the second year of registration they may take up to 18 credits of theological courses).

Candidates who are admitted under Regulation 7 of the Regulations Governing Matriculation shall be required to complete successfully, in a maximum of 2 semesters, 18 credits of level one courses, including 3 credits of level one University Courses, before being admitted to the B.A. (Theology) programme. Such candidates shall normally register for 9 credits in each semester and may not register for more than 12 credits in either semester.

Full-Time Students

14. Candidates for the degree of B.A. (Theology) shall present in not less than six semesters (three years) a minimum of NINETY credits, including not more than THIRTY SIX from level one and not fewer than FIFTEEN from level three. Credits shall be chosen according to the distribution set out below:

A.	Biblical Studies	-	12
B.	Historical Studies	-	6
C.	Pastoral Studies	-	12

D.	Theological and Ethical Studies	-	12
E.	Religious and Philosophical Studies	-	6
F.	UC120 – Language: Exposition/Argument		6
G.	Foundation Courses	-	6
H.	Research-linked course	-	3

The remaining TWENTY-SEVEN credits shall be chosen from A, B, C, D and E with the approval of the Theological College concerned.

15. Candidates for the degree of B.A. (Theology) may, with the approval of the Theological College concerned and the Faculty of Humanities and Education, choose up to TWELVE credits from level two and three courses not normally listed as available for the B.A. (Theology).
16. The minimal performance for a PASS degree (without honours) shall be that a student has passed NINETY credits in a period of not more than twelve semesters.
17. Candidates entering the degree programme of the B.A. (Theology) in accordance with Regulation 12 (i) above shall present credits in Biblical Studies in lieu of those credits in Level 1 University Courses that were successfully completed in the programme set out in regulation 13.
18. Candidates may not present for the B.A. (Theology) credits from level one courses taken in the two preliminary semesters as set in Regulation 13.
19. (a) Candidates entering the degree programme of the BA (Theology) in accordance with Regulation 12(i) above are permitted to complete the degree in a minimum of four semesters and a maximum of eight semesters. Such candidates shall be permitted to count towards the NINETY credits required for the degree, THIRTY credits of the courses which they have passed in the LTh programme. Their SIXTY remaining credits shall be so selected that the aggregate of NINETY credits satisfies Regulation 4 above.

- (b) Candidates who are allowed to transfer from the LTh. to the BA Theology before completing the LTh. may, on the recommendation of Faculty Board, be given exemption and credit for up to 30 Level I credits already gained in the LTh. Credits used to satisfy normal Matriculation requirements cannot be included in such credits.

Candidates may be allowed, by special permission, to transfer up to 30 credits from Level 1 courses in the diploma programme towards the degree programme, provided that the diploma courses were taught and examined along University guidelines and that the total course load did not exceed 36 credits in the academic year from which the courses for consideration were being proposed. Credits used to satisfy normal Matriculation requirements cannot be included in such credits.

- (c) Candidates entering the Degree Programme for the BA Theology in accordance with Regulation 12(ii) above, will be required to withdraw unless they have gained:

15 credits by the end of the second semester following

30 credits by the end of the fourth semester following

45 credits by the end of the sixth semester following

60 credits by the end of the eighth semester following.

20. Candidates for the BA (Theology) who are holders of the LTh are not permitted to offer for the degree any courses beyond Level I for which they have received accreditation in the LTh programme.
21. Notwithstanding Regulation 20, a candidate who, in accordance with Regulation 6, had completed more than the sixty credits required for the LTh shall be permitted to offer for the degree a total of twelve credits from level two and/or level three.

Part-time Students

22. Candidates may complete the requirements for the BA (Theology) degree, as set out in Regulation 14 above, on a part-time basis. In such cases Regulation 9 of the Faculty of Humanities and Education shall apply.
23. Registration, Examinations and Leave
See Faculty of Humanities and Education, Regulation 10.
24. Notification of Results, Award of Honours, Aegrotat Degree
See Faculty of Humanities and Education, Regulations 11, 12, 13.

THEOLOGY

THEO1001 INTRODUCTION TO OLD TESTAMENT
(T 10A) LITERATURE
(3 credits)

A survey of the literature of the Old Testament intended to enable the student to use the tools of critical analysis to read and understand it. The course uses specific texts to demonstrate how a knowledge of ancient culture, religion and history is essential for correctly interpreting the Hebrew texts.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1010 INTRODUCTION TO NEW TESTAMENT GREEK
(T 10P) (3 credits)

This course introduces students to the basic elements of New Testament Greek and so equips them to work with the original texts of the New Testament.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

THEO1002 INTRODUCTION TO NEW TESTAMENT
(T 10B) LITERATURE

(3 credits)

A survey of the literature of the New Testament intended to enable the student to use the tools of critical analysis to read and understand it. Emphasis is placed on the use of literary, historical, archaeological and cultural analysis.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1004 GEOGRAPHICAL AND CULTURAL WORLD OF (T 10D) THE BIBLE

(3 credits)

A study of the geography of Palestine, the Near East and the Mediterranean region and some aspects of the culture of the peoples who inhabited these regions in biblical times. The purpose of this study is to situate the biblical texts in their geographical and cultural context.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1007 INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL HEBREW (T 10S)

(3 credits)

This course introduces students to the basic elements of Biblical Hebrew so that they may be equipped to work with the original texts of the Old Testament.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL II

Semester 1

THEO2001 THE PENTATEUCH
(T 20A)

(3 credits)

A study of the Pentateuch or Torah of the Hebrew Scriptures, with special emphasis on literary, historical and theological issues that arise from these texts.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level I in Biblical Studies

THEO2003 THE PSALMS
(T 20C) (3 credits)

A study of the Psalter, with particular attention to its origin, development, literary forms, theology and function within the life of the faith community.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits Level I in Biblical Studies

THEO2014 BIBLICAL HEBREW READING
(T 20N) (3 credits)

The course is designed to teach students to read Biblical Hebrew prose and poetry. It provides an orientation to knowledge and skills necessary for the Hebrew Bible: text, criticism, aesthetic appreciation, style, etymology, grammar and vocabulary.

Prerequisite: THEO1019 (T10S)

THEO2016 NEW TESTAMENT GREEK READING
(T 20P) (3 credits)

This course continues the student's study of New Testament Greek, with the goal of acquiring a reasonable facility in translating and interpreting the Greek text. The primary emphasis will be on reading selected texts from the New Testament. Attention will also be given to a review of accidentance and syntax, vocabulary building, and the use of exegetical resources.

Prerequisite: THEO1016 (T10P)

THEO2018 SYNOPTIC GOSPELS
(T 20R) (3 credits)

This course will guide students towards reading the Synoptic

Gospels-Matthew, Mark and Luke - so that the unique nature of each can be appreciated. The sayings and deeds of Jesus and the proclamation of the Gospels about Jesus will be analysed in the light of historical context and literary development. The ultimate goal is for students to have a greater understanding of the historical issues surrounding Jesus, to appreciate the witness of each Gospel, and to develop skills as interpreters of the Gospel.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level I in Biblical Studies

Semester 2

THEO2002 THE LATTER PROPHETS (T 20B)

(3 credits)

A study of the Latter Prophets of the Hebrew Scriptures, in particular the text of Amos, Isaiah, Micah and Jeremiah, with special emphasis on literary, historical and theological issues that arise in the text.

Prerequisite: At least 3 credits at Level I in Biblical Studies

THEO2007 THE PAULINE EPISTLES (T 20G)

(3 credits)

An examination of the theological and pastoral concerns raised in the Pauline Epistles, with particular attention given to Romans, Galatians, Corinthians and Thessalonians. Attention will be given to literary and historical questions.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level I in Biblical Studies

THEO2008 THE GOSPEL AND EPISTLES OF JOHN (T 20H)

(3 credits)

A study of the Gospel and Epistles of John, paying particular attention to their distinctive features including their relationship to a common Gospel, and their understanding of Christ, the Holy Spirit, the Church, discipleship and eschatology.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level 1 in Biblical Studies

THEO2010 BIBLICAL TEXTS IN HEBREW
(T 20J) (3 credits)

Translation and exegesis of selected Old Testament prose and poetic text with a dual emphasis on developing both interpretative and linguistic skills.

Prerequisite: THEO1007 (T10S)

THEO2011 BIBLICAL TEXTS IN GREEK
(T 20K) (3 credits)

Translation and exegesis of selected New Testament texts with a dual emphasis on developing both interpretative and linguistic skills.

Prerequisite: THEO1010 (T10P)

LEVEL III

Semester 1

THEO3002 EXILIC LITERATURE
(T 30B) (3 credits)

A study of the faith crisis of Israel resulting from the Babylonian Exile, and the various ways in which the people responded to the trauma. Attention will be focussed on the literature (Pentateuchal, prophetic, poetic) produced in this period, with particular reference to the literary, historical and theological issues raised.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level I and 6 credits at Level II in Biblical Studies

THEO3004 THEOLOGY OF DEUTERONOMY AND THE (T 30D) DEUTERONOMIC HISTORY
(3 credits)

A study of the Book of Deuteronomy with special emphasis on theological issues related to worship, the land, the role of Moses, justice and interpersonal relationships. The course will also focus attention on similar theological emphases of the “Deuteronomic History”.

Prerequisite: At least 3 credits at Level II in Biblical Studies

THEO3006 ACTS OF THE APOSTLES
(T 30F) (3 credits)

This course focuses on the literary, historical and theological content of the book of Acts as the second volume of Luke-Acts and on the importance of Acts within the history of early Christianity. Special attention is given to such matters as the model presented in Acts for mission and evangelism, its understanding of the Church and its theology of baptism and the Spirit.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits of New Testament courses at Level I and/or Level II.

Semester 2

THEO3005 BIBLICAL APOCALYPTIC THEOLOGY
(T 30E) (3 credits)

A study of the Book of Daniel and the Book of Revelation, with special emphasis on the social context and on the characteristic theological emphases of Biblical apocalyptic eschatology. Some comparisons will be made with other apocalypses and related literature. The role of apocalyptic ideas in contemporary Christianity and society will be examined.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level I in Biblical Studies.

THEO3008 ISRAELITE WISDOM
(T 30H) (3 credits)

An examination of the literature produced by the Hebrew sages with special reference to Proverbs, Job, Ecclesiastes, Ben Sirach and Wisdom of Solomon. Particular attention will be given to the international character and cultural setting of the Wisdom Movement, literary forms, influence, distinctive theological and existential concerns, and contemporary relevance.

Prerequisite: At least 6 credits at Level I in Biblical Studies

B: HISTORICAL STUDIES

LEVEL I

Semester 1

THEO1101 SURVEY OF THE HISTORY OF THE CHURCH
(T 11A) TO THE REFORMATION
(3 credits)

An introductory course. The main outline of the history of the church with special emphasis given to the growth and spread of Western Christianity. A consideration of select themes.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1103 HISTORY OF THE CHURCH FROM (T 11C) PENTECOST TO CHARLEMAGNE
(3 credits)

A survey the events and people that shaped Christianity and its response to the persecutions to acceptance and its subsequent growth in power in the Romans Empire.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1104 HISTORY OF EARLY CHRISTIANITY TO THE (T 11D) COUNCIL OF NICAEEA
(3 credits)

The beginnings of Christian institutions and doctrines and the various historical factors which helped to shape them up to the Council of Nicaea.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

THEO1102 SURVEY OF THE REFORMATION: 1517-1648
(T 11B)

(3 credits)

A survey of the events beginning with Martin Luther in Germany, John Calvin in Geneva, Henry VIII in England and the Radicals to the Catholic response - the Council of Trent.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1105 HISTORY OF THE CHURCH FROM NICAEA
(T 11E) TO CHALCEDON

(3 credits)

History of the growth of the Church as an institution of the Roman Empire, its doctrinal controversies leading up to the "definition of faith" at the Council of Chalcedon.

Prerequisite: None

THEO1106 HISTORY OF THE MEDIEVAL CHURCH: 750-
(T 11F) 1450

(3 credits)

A survey of the history of the Church from Charlemagne to the Council of Basle with emphasis on the Carolingian Church, the Gregorian reform, the Avignon Papacy, the Great Schism and Conciliarism.

Prerequisite: None

LEVEL II

Semester 1

THEO2103 THE REFORMATION IN GERMANY AND (T 21C) SWITZERLAND

(3 credits)

An examination of the causes of the Reformation, the Renaissance and the Reformation. A consideration of the social, political and religious implications of the movement. Contributions of Luther and Calvin.

Prerequisite: THEO1101 (T11A) or THEO1104 (T11D)

THEO2105 THE MODERN CHURCH: 1650-1910
(T 21E) (3 credits)

Religious development in Europe and North America will be examined. Attention will be given to the influence of both continents on the Caribbean region.

Prerequisite: None

Semester 2

THEO2101 HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN WORSHIP
(T 21A) (3 credits)

The history of the rites of Christian worship from the earliest times to the present with emphasis on the Lord's Supper.

Prerequisite: None

THEO2104 THE REFORMATION IN ENGLAND AND
(T 21D) SCOTLAND
(3 credits)

An examination of the development in England and Scotland. The impact of the continental movement. The birth and spread of Puritanism and Separatism. Consideration of the Counter-Reformation.

Prerequisite: THEO1101 (T11A) or THEO1104 (T11D)

THEO2107 HISTORY OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCHES IN (T 21G) THE CARIBBEAN: 1492-1834

(3 credits)

The course will trace the historical development of the Christian Churches in the region from the arrival of the Europeans to the end of slavery in the British Caribbean. Special emphasis will be placed on the role of the Christian communities in the struggle for justice and freedom and the status and activities of the churches in the developing colonial societies.

Prerequisite: At least 3 credits at Level 1 in Historical Studies

THEO2108 HISTORY OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCHES IN (T 21H) THE POST EMANCIPATION CARIBBEAN

(3 credits)

A study of the role of the churches in the post-emancipation period and the shaping of the West Indian society. Special emphasis will be placed on the end of establishment, the growth of an interest in missions and movements for autonomy and unity.

Prerequisite: THEO1101 (T11A) or THEO1104 (T11D)

THEO2110 THE CATHOLIC REFORM
(T 21J)

(3 credits)

A study of the Problems associated with the undertaking of reform within the Catholic Church in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and a review of the agencies involved in the process of reform particularly the Council of Trent and the new religious orders.

Prerequisite: THEO2103 (T21C)

THEO3105 CARIBBEAN ECUMENICAL DEVELOPMENT
(T 31E) TO THE PRESENT

(3 credits)

The course aims to help students to become informed about the different movement towards closer ecclesiastical union and to develop awareness of the need to increase understanding of the importance of such cooperation for Caribbean integration. At the end of the course they should be able to understand the establishment and growth of ecumenical relations in the Caribbean.

Prerequisite: At least 3 credits at Level I in Historical Studies

C: PASTORAL STUDIES

LEVEL I

Semester 1

PART VI: POST GRADUATE DEGREES

1. GENERAL

1. The Faculty of Humanities and Education accepts graduate students to its various Departments to read for the MA, MLS, MPhil and PhD Degrees of this University. Application Forms are obtainable from the Registrar (Postgraduate Affairs), UWI.
2. All applications for postgraduate study must go before the University Board for Higher Degrees, through the Faculty Sub-Committee.
3. (a) An applicant for all Postgraduate Studies may be:
 - admitted without a Qualifying Examination
 - required to pass a Qualifying Examination before being fully registered for postgraduate studies, or
 - refused admission.(b) The nature of the Qualifying Examination shall be determined by the Department to which the candidate seeks admission subject to the approval of the Faculty Sub-Committee for Higher Degrees.
(c) A candidate who fails a required Qualifying Examination will not normally be permitted to re-sit the Examination.
4. All postgraduate students seeking admission to the PhD programme are normally required to register first for the MPhil degree. Later transfer to the PhD may be made if the student's Supervisor and the departmental Graduate Supervision Committee recommend it, and if the recommendation is supported by the Faculty's Sub-Committee on Higher Degrees and approved by the Board for Higher Degrees.
5. Students may be registered for full-time or part-time studies. No student may be registered for full-time studies if he or she spends an average of nine or more hours a week in paid employment.

6. Regulations concerning the length of periods of study for the award of postgraduate degrees to part-time students are given in the relevant sections below. In every other respect e.g. qualification for admission, attendance at seminars, conditions of award of the degree etc., part-time students are subject to the same regulations as full-time students.

Supervision

7. The Graduate Supervision Committee shall propose to the Faculty Sub-Committee for Higher Degrees a Supervisor or Supervisors of experience appropriate to the proposed field of research of each candidate.
8. Postgraduate students are required to consult with their Supervisor(s) in person, at intervals to be specified by the Supervisor(s), but normally once a term. However, a candidate not resident in the same territory as his Supervisor(s) may be permitted to report in writing, except that a candidate who does not already hold a degree from this University is required to reside in one of the territories for the first year of registration.

Thesis

9. Dissertations and theses presented for a postgraduate degree in this Faculty must be written according to the stylistic conventions specified by the Board for Higher Degrees.

Oral Examinations

10. When a candidate presenting a thesis is required to take an Oral Examination this will be chaired by the Chairman of the Faculty Sub-Committee for Higher Degrees, or his nominee who will also be responsible for seeing that a report on the examination is drawn up. The report shall be signed by all the Examiners present and by the Chairman of the Examination Board and forwarded to the Board for Higher Degrees.

2. THE MA DEGREE BY COURSEWORK AND THE MLS IN LIBRARY STUDIES

The Degree of MA by coursework is at present offered in the Departments of English, Spanish, French, History, Linguistics and the MLS in Library Studies.
