Why a UWI LLM?

The UWI LLM is designed to meet the need of working professionals as well as those who may have an academic interest in law. Students can choose their electives from across 3 campuses of The University of the West Indies. In line with the One-UWI initiative, the LLM courses are all taught by video-conferencing and generally include students from around the Caribbean. The LLM teachers are well-known experts in their fields and MonaLaw has a strong cadre of renowned teachers and researchers in the areas of both corporate and commercial law and public law.

CORPORATE & COMMERCIAL LAW

This one-year, full-time specialisation is designed to give lawyers and other professionals advanced training in corporate and commercial law. Leading experts teach the latest developments in banking law, corporate governance, corporate finance, insolvency law and other related topics. This programme is especially well-suited for those working in the financial sector and serving corporate clients and those who wish to be better equipped to undertake specialized work in corporate and commercial law.

PUBLIC LAW

This one-year, full-time specialisation explores core issues in constitutional law and administrative law, environmental law, public international law, public international trade law and Caribbean integration law. This programme is well-suited for members of the judiciary, public servants, public law practitioners, especially those with an interest in appearing before the Caribbean Court of Justice.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

This programme requires a Bachelor of Laws (LLB) or graduates of an approved university holding a degree which includes such subjects as shall satisfy the Board for Graduate Studies & Research.

COST

This programme costs US $10,000. The UWI also has instalment plan options available.

DURATION

The full-time programme is 1 year or 2 semesters (Sep - Dec and Jan - May). The part-time programme is 2-3 years. The difference between the full and part time programmes is the number of courses for which one can register. A full-time student may register for a maximum of 4 courses and a part-time student may register for up to 2 courses. Lectures are typically scheduled in the evenings.

HOW WE TEACH

A combination of residential lectures, workshops, seminars and modern distant learning techniques with the inclusion of regional and international experts.

DEVELOP RESEARCH

Students may opt to read for a Research Paper at the end of the programme. Students will be able to develop a thesis through the supervision of our strong Faculty. Students may get the chance to publish or present their paper at our many seminars, fora and conferences hosted by the Faculty.

When can I start?

We have intake in September (Semester 1) and January (Semester 2). Call our Faculty office for the periods of application.
